

Two Agricultural Department Aides Fired by Talmadge

Walter S. Vance and W. L. Hunnicutt Quit Positions at Capitol at Request of Commissioner.

VANCE MANAGED
TALMADGE RACE

Commissioner Declares He Acted Because Clerk Proved Incompetent To Hold Position.

Another shake-up in the state agricultural department came suddenly Friday when Walter S. Vance, chief clerk of the fertilizer inspection department, and W. L. Hunnicutt, a clerk in that department, severed their connection with the department at the request of Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture. Vance was one of the campaign managers for Commissioner Talmadge in the commission race against J. J. Brown, former commissioner. Hunnicutt's father was a candidate against J. J. Brown in the race held in 1924.

In the case of Vance, the reason given for his removal by Commissioner Talmadge was "incompetency." In the case of Hunnicutt Commissioner Talmadge said Hunnicutt had demanded an increase in salary with the statement that he would quit the department in 30 or 60 days if the increase was not forthcoming. Commissioner Talmadge said he sent for Hunnicutt and told him he could go on a vacation until February 1 and then sever his connection with the department.

Vance Well Known. Vance is well known in state politics. He served for a short time in the office of the state oil inspection department under J. J. Brown and later served as a warrant clerk in the office of Governor Thomas W. Hardwick. He was one of the managers of the campaign of the late Senator Thomas E. Watson and also worked in the campaign headquarters of former Governor Hardwick.

"The busy season in the fertilizer inspection department is now at hand,"

W. J. DUPONT DIES NEAR BRUNSWICK

Heart Trouble Fatal to Stockholder in Huge Powder Firm and Former Company Head.

Brunswick, Ga., January 20.—(P)—Collapsing while reading a newspaper in his winter home near here, William Dupont, millionaire chemical manufacturer, of Wilmington, Del., and long an associate in the powder producing company bearing his family name, died suddenly today of heart disease.

He was 73 years of age. With him at the time were his daughter, Mrs. T. H. Somerville, of Wilmington; Dr. E. J. Ryan, of Philadelphia, his personal physician, his secretary and a nurse.

The collapse came unexpectedly while he was surrounded by members of his household in the drawing room just before luncheon. Dr. Ryan said there had been a general conversation, in which Dupont participated with his usual lively interest, and he had picked up a newspaper to scan it when the physician was called from the room.

Just as Dr. Ryan reached the hall, it was said, the aged capitalist slumped.

HICKMAN'S FATHER GOES TO AID YOUTH FACING GALLIOWS

Slayer Fails To Rise From Cot To Greet His Parent—Son Is Insane, Declares Visitor.

Los Angeles, January 20.—(United News).—A rugged, middle-aged man, whose eyes were bloodshot and whose beard was heavy, found himself in the spotlight of a nation's interest tonight.

He was Thomas Hickman, until a month ago an obscure worker in a Texas railroad yard. The unkempt condition of his clothes and the need of a shave were results of a 48-hour desert train ride from El Paso in a day coach. The two missing fingers from his left hand and the seared left eye were explained with the simple words, "hard labor."

Acts To Defend Son. Hickman was here to do what he could to defend his son, William Edward Hickman, who faces the gallows because he sought to make his way through the world by forgery, gunplay, kidnapping and murder rather than by work.

With attorneys and jail attendants looking on, the railroad man entered the slayer's cell and muttered a husky "How are you, Edward?" The pair shook hands, spoke quietly for a few moments and then the father and his group departed.

The elder Hickman shot a "Good-bye, Edward," over his shoulder, but the murderer of Marian Parker didn't bother to answer. Except when the father knelt at the son's side and the newspaper photographers, the young slayer seemed bored by the whole affair.

Didn't Rise From Cot.

Edward didn't rise from his cot to greet the parent who had traveled over half a continent in a day coach to help save him from a hangman's noose.

Before the father entered the jail some doubt existed as to whether there would be a meeting. "The Fox," recovering in his cell from an illness, spoke rather harshly of his hard-working father.

"I don't know whether I will see him," the killer told Jailer Frank Dewar. "He is the cause of all my trouble. I often thought I ought to go to Texas and lump the old man off."

The elder Hickman discussed his family briefly while he sat in the office of Richard Cantello, defense attorney, awaiting his son's decision regarding the visit.

Last Visit In 1926.

"I haven't seen Edward since October, 1926," he said. "At that time he seemed to be a little unsettled, but otherwise perfectly normal. I think he must be insane now. He probably inherited it from his mother. She was suffering from a nervous disease bordering on insanity when we separated."

"Yes, I'll take the witness stand if they want me to. I am here to do anything I can to help Edward. I'm sure he can't be sane."

The father admitted he had called his son a "beast" when he first learned of his confession of the slaying of the Parker girl.

"I felt pretty bad about it then," he said, "but when I remembered how his mother acted and how Edward had always seemed like a pretty good boy I felt something must have happened to his brain."

"I can't believe that Edward refuses to see me, but I won't attempt to force myself on him."

SHOT IN FIGHT, SOLDIER DYING; 2 MEN SOUGHT

John Thompson, 18, Enraged, Shoots Private Galloway for Alleged Attention to Sister.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY
CLAIMED BY GIRL

Thompson and Father, Following Formwalt Street Shooting, Leap Into Auto and Escape.

Angered at attentions of a soldier to his sister, John Thompson, 18 years old, 170 Powers street, Friday night shot and probably fatally wounded Private A. C. Galloway, of Fort McPherson, while Galloway and Eliza Thompson, the father, were engaged in a fist fight, police said. Miss Gertrude Thompson, the sister, said that her father and brother were angry with a soldier by the name of Lane and that she believed they mistook Galloway for Lane.

Both father and son leaped into an automobile and sped away, following the shooting and escape are now seeking them.

Call Officers E. W. Ginn and S. B. McGarrity, investigating, reported that Galloway went into a store at 286 Formwalt street Friday night and was called out by Eliza Thompson. After words had passed a fight started.

During the altercation the son is said to have come up and fired three times, only one of the bullets striking Galloway. Both he and his father then left in an automobile, leaving Galloway on the sidewalk.

Galloway was rushed to Grady hospital, where doctors said the bullet entered the right thigh above the hip, and passed into the abdomen. Slight chance to live was given him.

Officers at Fort McPherson Friday night were preparing to remove the wounded man to the post hospital.

Relief from cold

in Midwest near

Warmer weather expected today after icy wave caused numerous freak accidents.

Chicago, January 20.—(United News).—Howling northwest winds and near-zero temperatures prevailed in the middle west tonight, but forecasters predicted the intense weather conditions would moderate by Saturday.

Numerous storm freaks were reported throughout the area affected by the windstorm. Traffic was tied up. Airmail service was almost entirely disrupted. In many sections, snow accompanied the sudden change from spring-like weather.

A broken rail, caused by sudden contraction due to the cold, was reported to have caused derailment of the Atlantic liner, crack Montreal-Chicago train of the grand trunk railroad at Battle Creek, Mich.

Two persons were slightly injured and 40 occupants of Pullman cars were forced to wait in the cold until a relief train could be assembled. All traffic over the grand trunk through Battle Creek was re-routed.

BIG, BLACK PISTOL

WAVED IN PULPIT

EMPTIES CHURCH

Pittsburgh, January 20.—(P)—Rev. W. D. Eddings, negro pastor of a Duquesne church, was found guilty of carrying and pointing a gun today after members of his congregation testified he appeared in the pulpit and "fanned" an audience with a "big black pistol."

The minister, according to witnesses, was reading a notice that Joe Johnson was ousted as a church deacon when Johnson rose in his seat.

Ordered to "sit down," Johnson testified he sat down. Then, it was testified, the minister drew the gun and flourished it, and Deacon Johnson and several of his friends went out near by windows. Others, loyal to the pastor in factional difficulties, deserted him and the church was empty.

Rev. Eddings, on whom sentence was postponed pending a motion for a new trial, testified that all he could remember of the disturbance was that someone hit him on the head with a piano stool.

LABOR TO DEMAND

'2.75 BEER' PLANK

OF BOTH PARTIES

Minneapolis, Jan. 21.—(P)—The American Federation of Labor will demand of both major political parties the inclusion of a campaign platform calling for 2.75 per cent beer.

Announcement of the decision was made today by President William Green after the executive council of the federation had heard the plea of the United Brewery Workers, presented by Joseph Overfield. The federation for several years has favored "real beer" as a step toward temperance, but this will be the first time that the demand has been framed in time for inclusion in the legislative program to be presented to the major parties during their election year conventions.

Favored Volstead Act Amendment.

The Los Angeles convention last year went on record as favoring amendment of the Volstead act.

The other important action of the afternoon session was rejection of the petition of the New York Pocket Book Makers' union which asked to be made a department of the leather workers' organization.

This morning the council heard reports on the resistance of miners in the Pennsylvania coal fields to the terms offered by coal operators following failure of the wage conference called here last winter.

Green said he wanted it distinctly understood that the federation does not favor repeal or amendment to the eighteenth amendment. The Volstead act only is out of favor.

"Our belief is," he said, "that 2.75 per cent beer is not intoxicating."

W. C. T. U. HEAD SEEKS

'TEETH' IN DRY LAW.

Washington, January 20.—(United News).—Members of the house judiciary committee were urged today to approve the Stalker bill, which provides a five-year sentence and $10,000 fine for first offenders of the Volstead law, when Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions, appeared before the committee today.

Mrs. Willebrandt said the bill is aimed at the big bootleggers who, if "we believe deserves a stiff penalty must be prosecuted under conspiracy statutes."

Under the present law the maximum is $1,000 fine or six months' imprisonment.

PRINCE OF WALES

STAYS ON HORSE

AS OTHERS FALL

Melton Mowbray, England, January 20.—(P)—Good fortune attended the Prince of Wales and his brothers, the Duke of York and Prince Henry, while hunting today with the Quorn hounds. Rain was persistent throughout the greater part of the day, and falls were numerous, owing to the heavy going, but the princes all succeeded in maintaining their mounts.

Lady Kathleen Rolfe was pitched into the road, but not seriously hurt. The Maharajah of Cooh Behar (Indian) escaped injury when a horse collided with hers and "dismounted" her.

Illinois Governor Refuses To Name Smith's Successor

Executive Brands Refusal of Senate To Seat Senator-Elect as "Ar-front to State."

ATTORNEY GENERAL
MAY ACT IN COURTS

Small Serves Notice He Declines To Recognize Illinoisan's Ouster. Leaders Puzzled.

Chicago, January 20.—(P)—Illinois has received an unwarranted affront from the United States senate in its refusal to recognize Colonel Frank L. Smith as one of its senators, Governor Len Small declared today in a formal statement in which he served notice he would refuse to recognize the senate action.

Coupled with the declaration of Colonel Smith to resign the governor's statement was interpreted as meaning that Illinois would function with one United States senator for the next six years unless other developments intervened. Smith was with the governor when the typewritten statement was passed out to newspapermen in the office of Werner W. Schroeder, Governor Small's personal attorney.

Future Action Undecided. Schroeder said he did not represent Colonel Smith and he did not know whether the senator-elect contemplated legal action in a renewed effort to force senate recognition.

Oscar L. Carlstrom, state attorney general, said he had no statement to make now but might have one at some later date after a conference with Colonel Smith. It was understood Carlstrom was ready, as head of the state's legal department, to assert publicly that Colonel Smith still was senator-elect of Illinois despite senate action.

The Illinois general assembly has gone on record that Smith is entitled to his seat in the senate. Smith declined to indicate what his next step might be. Two forms of litigation were said by some to be open to him. One would be to compel senate verification and the other to compel Vice President Dawes to administer the oath of office.

Democrats May Act.

A third discussed in some unofficial quarters was that Colonel Smith might elect to have a notary public or some other capable officer administer the oath of office to him.

On the other hand, the Chicago Daily News quoted an unnamed republican leader as explaining that Colonel Smith's dilemma had two prongs:

"If he attempts to hold his certificate of election, the democrats will nominate a candidate for the Smith vacancy. The republicans then will be forced to nominate a candidate to permit the democratic candidate to win without opposition."

"Smith will have to run again for renomination and election to his own seat or stand idly by clutching a certificate of election which no one else takes the seat to which he was elected."

Text of Small's Edict.

As governor of Illinois and in behalf of our people, I desire to express an unqualified resentment of this unwarranted assumption of authority by the United States senate in infringing on the rights of a free people to select a senator of their own choice."

"On behalf of Illinois, I can not and will not recognize the action of the United States senate in declaring that a vacancy exists in the representation of Illinois in the United States senate."

"I do so would be to bargain away the constitutional rights of the people of a sovereign state and would be unwarranted."

Canines Take Spotlight

COULD USE THEIR OWN NEWSPAPER TODAY

By Queer Acts Over U.S.

BY UNITED NEWS.

If dogs had a daily newspaper, its front page this morning would be crowded with stories of impending executions, tragedies of the sea, and revenge through the courts, much the same as the newspapers printed for men and women.

If the Canine News happened to be a sensational journal it probably would lead off under a banner headline with a story from Kansas City: "German Bessie Spirited Away Pending Court Fight." Under another heading might appear the dramatic account of the death by long range rifle shot of the white collie marooned on a cake of ice in Lake St. Clair near Detroit.

Then there would be the account of the Brooklyn canine who had a physician arrested and convicted for binding his snout with tape. But let the dispatches speak for themselves:

"HANDSOME" COLLIE CALM

ON FLOES OF ICE.

Detroit, Mich.—This community was aroused today by the plight of a white collie which was marooned for 24 hours on a cake of ice a mile from shore in Lake St. Clair. The dog was believed to be a pet of one of the numerous millionaire families who live along the shore drive.

The collie wagged his tail cheerfully in response to shouts from shore and occasionally took refuge from the biting 30-mile gale by lying down on the protected side of the tilting ice cake. Boats were unable to go to his assistance because of the ice floes.

Hundreds of persons lined the shore but were helpless to save the collie. Biscuiters revealed that he was a handsome animal with long white hair and brown spots.

Just as aviators at Selfridge field were preparing to attempt to rescue him with an airplane, the humane officers who had gathered at the scene ordered the dog shot.

Frank Sandley, of the Gross-Pointe Park police, got a rifle and began firing. The collie watched a little apprehensively as the bullets fell short of their mark. Then a long range rifle was brought to the shore and the collie was dispatched.

ALEX CHAMLEE GIVEN PUBLIC SERVICE POST

Governor Hardman Appoints Bartow Man to Vacancy Caused by Recent Death of O. R. Bennett.

CHAMLEE DECISION
EXPECTED TODAY

South Carolina Supreme Court Ruling Hits Moralists, But Legalizes Commercialized Links.

Columbia, S. C., January 20.—(P)—The state supreme court in an opinion on the so-called Sunday blue laws filed today held that blue laws cannot be sold in North Carolina on Sundays, but that uncommercialized golf playing is lawful.

The decisions, which grew out of an attempt a year ago by Governor John G. Richards to enforce the ancient Sabbath observance statute of the state, some of which date back to 1791, therefore constitute a victory and a defeat for the chief executive's interpretation of the laws.

Except to say he was well pleased with the court's action, Governor Richards would make no comment.

Rules Golf Is Pastime. The supreme court summarized its opinion of Sunday golf by saying that while it was not unlawful to engage in it as a sport or pastime, it was illegal to play or use it as a worldly labor or business.

Persons under 15 years of age are specifically not amenable to the Sunday law, the court pointed out, and caddies under this age can be lawfully employed.

Sales of gasoline or any other commodity on Sunday, said the opinion, can only be done legally as a work of necessity or charity. The burden of proving the facts of necessity or charity must be proved by the seller and each case must be judged on its individual circumstances.

Governor Started Crusade.

The blue law crusade grew out of a campaign Governor Richards shortly after he took office on January 18 of last year to stop all golf on Sunday, and to prevent the sale of all articles of merchandise except a few classes he recognized as necessities, which included milk, ice, drugs, and prepared meals.

Numbers of golfers were arrested at various points in the state, and all were acquitted by juries in magistrates' courts.

A modified Sunday bill passed the legislature last year but was promptly vetoed by the executive who termed it "an attempt to amend the commandments." The bill passed the senate over his veto, but his action was sustained in the house.

Under the law, the successor to Mr. Bennett will serve in his unexpired term until the next general election in 1928.

Several other names had been mentioned in connection with the place, among them being George H. Carswell, of Wilkinson county, former governor of Georgia, and John W. Wilson, secretary to the governor and son-in-law of the late Commissioner Bennett; Colonel John T. Bollenbaker, former member of the senate, and J. E. Palmour, of Gainesville, who once made an unsuccessful race for a place on the commission.

Mr. Chamlee has been engaged in farming in Washington county since 1902, having moved to that county from Cherokee county, where he was born.

During his career Mr. Chamlee has served as chairman of the commission of roads and revenue of Washington county; as a trustee of the Georgia state college of agriculture and as vice chairman of the state democratic executive committee.

The Hardman campaign, in both the first and second primaries, was managed by Mr. Chamlee and the big vote rolled up for Governor Hardman was one of the surprises of the political campaign of 1926.

Mr. Chamlee Friday night had no statement to make relative to his appointment, further than to say that his decision on the post was made and would be announced within a few hours.

MRS. WILSON HEARS

PADEREWSKI PLAY

AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, January 20.—(United News).—A woman in black sat among the guests who heard Paderewski play his famous minuet for the President and Mrs. Coolidge at the white house today. She glanced about at the newly decorated east room and noted the changes that had taken place since she was last there.

When the aged genius of the piano finished there was an affectionate greeting between the two, for the late husband of the woman in black had much to do with the birth of modern Poland of which Paderewski was the first premier. They fought side by side for Poland at the Paris peace conference. The widow was Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

Government Policy Toward Nicaragua Debated in Senate

COURT BANS SALE
OF GAS, APPROVES
GOLF ON SABBATH

Only Extreme Radicals and Pacifists Opposed to Administration's Course, Bruce Asserts.

Recall Marines, Demand of Dill

Washington, January 20.—(P)—The administration's policy toward Nicaragua was vigorously defended today in the senate by a democratic stalwart, Bruce, of Maryland.

Replying to a demand of Senator Dill, of Washington, also a democrat, that American marines be withdrawn from the Central American republic, the Marylander declared that the only people in this country who opposed the administration's course were "extreme pacifists and radicals."

This aroused Senator Dill who accused Bruce of classifying him as a radical, but the latter entered a disclaimer, explaining that what he had said was that as far as he knew "every radical in this country" was opposed to the government policy.

Bruce Offers Explanation. "And in that connection," Senator Bruce went on, "I would like to see the authority of the Mexican committee of which I am a member, extended so that it might determine how far clandestine correspondence has gone on between the radicals and communists in this country and those in Mexico and Nicaragua."

Protesting against "the murder of Nicaraguans" Senator Dill said the real reason why the marines were being kept in the southern republic was to protect the property of Americans there "which was obtained by speculation."

"This is one of the foulest and blackest of crimes," Dill added, "that has been committed against the men who enlisted in the armed forces of this country to protect its flag."

REPORT REBEL CHIEF WAS AT LEAST INJURED.

Managua, Nicaragua, January 20.—(P)—While some doubt exists as to whether the rebel general, Augustino Sandino, is dead or seriously injured, a report received by the United States marine command here today indicates that he at least suffered injuries at El Chichote, a mountain stronghold, last Saturday.

The report comes from the marine garrison at Ocotal, in Nueva Segovia, which says that information has been received from Nicaraguans coming into Ocotal that Sandino was seriously wounded in an air attack at El Chichote on that date.

BROTHER SCOUTS REPORT OF SANDINO'S DEATH.

New York, January 20.—(United News).—Socrates Sandino, a slender, olive-complexioned youth, received supporters in the pamphlet-littered office of the "All-American Anti-Imperialist league" today and told him, in the course of his speech, his brother had died.

Not that he believes General Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan rebel leader, has yet forfeited his life, in the contrary Socrates expressed confidence that his brother was still alive.

"I believe he has retreated with his army from El Chichote to the mountains where there are many hiding places. He will await his chance to attack your marines," he said.

RANSOM THREATS IGNORED BY SMITH

Northampton, Mass., January 20.—(United News.)—A letter demanding $2,500 ransom if "he wished to see his daughter alive again," has been received by St. John Smith, New York banker and father of Miss Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith college freshman.

"It is true," he told the United News tonight, "that we have received such a letter, but there is nothing about the letter to indicate that the writer has any knowledge as to the whereabouts of my daughter. I am told by persons familiar with such cases as this that one must expect to receive a letter or two of this type from persons who hope to obtain money by taking advantage of your misfortune."

Reports of seeing the missing student continued to pour in today, but none served to throw light on the fate of the girl. A bundle of women's clothing, discovered today in a Springfield garage, proved not to be those of the missing girl.

BLAME 'FANATIC' FOR TELEGRAM

Jacksonville, Fla., January 20.—(P.) A telegram sent from Jacksonville and signed by O. F. Jones, to New York police saying that the dissected body of Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith college student, had been shipped to Jacksonville, was the work of a "religious fanatic," city and county police here tonight decided.

Tracing the telegram, police declare they have learned it was sent by a man who "is studying to become an evangelist." Jones' home was visited by officers, but he was gone. Questioning neighbors brought out that Jones sometimes has strange hallucinations.

MISSING STUDENT BELIEVED SEEN

Swainsboro, Ga., January 20.—(P.) A girl whom he said fitted the description of the missing Smith college student, Miss Frances St. John Smith, was given a ride while hiking along the highway near here today by Lynwood Thompson, who brought the girl on to this city. The girl was accompanied by another girl and boy and intimates to him that they were on their way to Florida.

Collapse of Ruth Executioner Brings Ten Requests for Job

Harrisburg, Pa., January 20.—(United News.)—Published reports that Robert Elliott, of Richmond Hill, N. Y., official executioner for several states, had suffered a breakdown after the dual execution of Ruth Snyder and Judd Gray in Sing Sing prison has brought forward a host of applicants for the post of official executioner in Pennsylvania.

Although Elliott has not resigned his Pennsylvania post, ten applications were received this week at the governor's office from persons who want the job of operating the switch of the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary. One of the applicants, a policeman, wrote that he wanted the job "to better himself." Two were world war veterans, one of whom said he thought "the preference should be given a native Pennsylvanian."

A republican county committee man, an applicant, gave his weight and height, while another applicant is a mail carrier.

CHICAGO MATRONS TARGET OF UNION BY GHOST'S RAIDS

Chicago, January 20.—(United News.)—To the trials of Chicago society women, already distraught by the complexity of modern existence, has been added another menace in the person of one Henry Tooley, president of the House Maids and Butlers' union.

It is Tooley's avowed purpose to make every evening Thursday evening for the hard-working domestics. He insists that eight hours a day of house work is enough and "when the union gets strong enough," the old time "hired girl" will observe bankers' hours and quit on time, even if it means ending dinner with the soup course.

Leader Former Butler. The champion of the servants' rights is himself a former butler and his feelings are very strong in the matter.

"The maids and the butlers need some time to themselves," he complained. "They can't work all day and most of the night and lead a normal life."

Tooley admitted the eight-hour day was yet to be realized and that no attempt would be made to enforce it until the union had grown stronger.

"But we are increasing membership every day," he said. "Already we have a thousand union maids and butlers in Chicago. We have a charter from the American Federation of Labor and are progressing rapidly."

Miltonvale, Kans., January 20.—(United News.)—There is a ghost with a sweet tooth in Miltonvale.

It inhabits a "haunted house" on College hill and has been keeping the living residents of the place in a turmoil for several days and nights. A materialized ghost, it is claimed, was turned up when the kitchen door was found to be liberally sprinkled with sugar. A sugar jar in the cupboard had been tampered with.

Hear Pattering Footsteps. The families of Harry Hubbard and C. C. Miller live in the house and they report pattering footsteps, banging doors and mysteriously unlocked windows.

Last night the families became so frightened at the untraceable noises that they summoned Night Marshal Muschman. He searched some rooms and they made a search of the house, to no avail.

In the search someone kicked a milk can down the cellar steps. I. B. Betters, thinking he had the "ghost" cornered, made a flying tackle, but only bumped his head against the wall.

PROBE PROPOSED BY GEORGIA SOLON SCORED BY SOCIETY

Washington, January 20.—(United News.)—The resolution of Representative Larsen, Georgia, democrat, calling for an investigation of the alleged fertilizer trust by the federal trade commission, was characterized tonight as "simply nonsense and politics" by J. J. Brand, executive secretary of the National Fertilizer association.

W. J. DUPONT DIES AT GEORGIA HOME

ed down in his chair without speaking and was dead when the physician rushed back, summoned by the urgent cries of the nurse.

The cause of death was entered as myocarditis, for which Dr. Ryan said Du Pont had been under treatment for several months.

He came here about two weeks ago on the annual visit it had been his custom to make for 15 years, although he had been in poor health for some time, he was said by Dr. Ryan to have improved greatly since coming south and to have appeared in excellent condition at the time of his collapse.

Two children, Mrs. Somerville and William Du Pont, Jr., also of Wilmington, were present.

The body will be sent to Wilmington for funeral services and burial, leaving here tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock accompanied by members of the household.

FORMERLY HEADED HERCULES COMPANY.

Wilmington, Del., January 20.—(P.) William Du Pont, who died at his winter home near Brunswick, Ga., today, was a pioneer in the manufacture of high explosives. He was born August 21, 1855, the son of the late General and Mrs. Henry Du Pont, at their home along the Brandywine creek, near here, and was a brother of former Senator Henry A. Du Pont, who died recently. Senator Coleman Du Pont is a cousin.

William Du Pont was one of the stockholders in the Hercules Powder company when it was organized in 1882 and was president of the old Hercules Powder company of Cleveland from 1886 to 1902.

TWO AGRICULTURAL AIDES ARE OUSTED

Commissioner Talmadge said: "It requires a certain amount of technical knowledge to work in this department and I was not convinced that Mr. Vance possessed the knowledge necessary. In the case of Mr. Hunnicutt I felt that I should make the change at the beginning of the season if he were preparing to leave as I would rather break in a new man at the beginning of the season than to wait until it is well under way. At present I have made no plans to replace either Mr. Vance or Mr. Hunnicutt and if they are not replaced it will save the state a month's salary."

This is the second shakeup in the department of agriculture. The first came soon after Commissioner Talmadge assumed office. He removed virtually the entire staff in all departments which had formerly been employed by Commissioner Brown.

Soothing Calm Follows Robinson-Heflin Row In Senate Over Smith

Washington, January 20.—(P.)—Calm ruled today on the democratic side of the senate after the storm over Catholicism and Governor Alfred E. Smith and the challenging of the leadership of Robinson, of Arkansas, by Heflin, of Alabama.

Given an overwhelming vote of confidence by his party colleagues, Senator Robinson apparently regarded the incident as closed, especially since Heflin had publicly withdrawn his challenge of the leader's right to sit on the special committee investigating Mexican documents published in Hearst newspapers.

The Alabama senator seemed disinclined to continue the feud with his party leader, although he still insisted that the party conference in voting confidence in Robinson had in no wise administered any rebuke to him for attacking the Roman Catholic church and the New York governor or for challenging Robinson's leadership when the Arkansas senator vigorously defended him on the senate floor.

Postpones Address. However, Heflin reiterated that he would continue on the course he has mapped out in opposition to Smith

IRATE PASSENGERS ADAM-EVE LOVERS TIED IN N. Y. SUBWAY BROKEN UP BY RUM

Brooklyn, N. Y., January 20.—(United News.)—The downtown straphanger unloosed tonight the pent-up fury of years in a thunderous 40-minute demand for his rights.

In a war, he was defeated, but not until he threatened to write the transportation board, the mayor, the governor and an I. R. T. subway official had placated him.

More than subway passengers rose in protest against their train being shunted on the wrong route. They didn't get their rights but they won a moral victory.

Switched on Wrong Tracks. The passengers boarded a "Flat-bush avenue" train in Lower Manhattan, in the congested office district. At one of the Brooklyn stations, instead of being switched to the right, the train was switched to the left—the wrong route.

Because other trains were close behind, the motorman had to continue on to the next station where the guards asked the passengers to get out, cross over to the other side, take another train back to the last station, and there get the right train.

"Back to the train," demanded a passenger. "Back to the train," demanded a passenger.

"We can't," a guard advised. "There are other trains right behind us."

It was the rush hour. The guards persisted but the passengers remained adamant. More than that, they planted themselves in the doorways and refused to budge.

Men and women, harassed by years of subway riding, laughed out loud. A call was sent for the police. The spoke in a snarl; they were being demanded more than acute police discipline.

"No, we won't get off the train," half a dozen voices shouted.

By this time the chief station master arrived from the central station. He mounted and made a crackling speech. "It was all a mistake," he assured the passengers.

There was talk and more talk. Finally, the passengers gave up and expressions of indignation, the straphangers surrendered.

But they didn't have to pay an extra nickel.

STATE, CITY SHOW BIG BUILDING GAINS

Georgia's new construction projects started during December amounted to $8,000,000, of which $1,770,000 is the amount of work in Atlanta, according to an announcement Saturday from the F. W. Dodge corporation, of New York.

The state's record was 9 per cent ahead of the total for the preceding month and was more than three times the amount reported in December, 1927.

Last month's building record for Georgia included the following items of importance: 4,400,000, or 50 per cent, of all construction, for public works and utilities; $1,626,000, or 23 per cent, for residential buildings; $557,000, or 8 per cent, for commercial buildings; and $415,000, or 6 per cent, for industrial projects.

Analysis of the December construction report for the city showed the following important classes of work: $1,001,800, or 56 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $414,200, or 23 per cent, for commercial buildings; and $415,000, or 6 per cent, for industrial projects.

COSGROVE SILENT ON IRISH POLITICS

Some of the things that have impressed him so far.

Eager to "see everything," Cosgrove and the members of his party stepped out to the platform in the railroad yards at Hamilton, N. Y., where they watched the huge steam locomotives replacing the electric engines that had pulled their train out from New York.

Cosgrove said he was looking forward keenly to his "fortnight trip." His itinerary includes a visit of four days in Washington, after he leaves Chicago on Sunday noon. After leaving Washington, he will go to Philadelphia, New York and Ottawa.

WELCOMED BY CROWD IN NEW YORK

New York, January 28.—(United News.)—William T. Cosgrove, first president of the Irish Free State, was speeding westward toward Chicago tonight after a typically enthusiastic welcome by New York.

His stay here was as brief as the greeting was boisterous. Less than an hour after he gave notice that he was leaving, he was on his way to the private car of a New York Central railroad executive, and at 2:45 p. m. the train pulled out of Grand Central station.

Cosgrove, who spent the night on the S. S. Homeric, was greeted as he came up the bay by a 19-gun salute from a number of war veterans' bands.

There followed the usual activities of water craft reserved for incoming celebrities. He was then escorted to city hall through the line of 3,000 people—mostly Irish—and cheering throngs of citizens for a program of speech-making by municipal officials.

Relieves Colds in 2 Minutes

Montezuma, Ga., January 20.—The city court of Oglethorpe convenes next Monday morning, not having met since the fourth Monday in July, 1927.

Judge R. L. Greer was indisposed at the time of the September term of court. On account of an accumulation of business the docket will be extraordinarily heavy.

ALABAMA'S CONDEMN SENATOR HEFLIN

Mobile, Ala., January 20.—(P.)—The city commission of Mobile composed of Mayor Leon Schwartz and Commissioners Cecil E. Bates and Harry T. Hartwell, adopted a resolution today condemning the action of Senator Heflin of this state, in threatening Senator Joe Robinson, of Arkansas, with "tar and feathers."

Church Controversy Rages Over 'Black Magic' Charges

BY C. P. WILLIAMSON.

London, January 20.—(United News.)—The archbishops of Canterbury and York issued a statement tonight explaining the latest revisions in the prayer book and a new enabling act which parliament must pass before the revisions can become effective.

The statement attempts to "remove misapprehensions and make more clear and more explicit" the intentions and limitations of the 1928 prayer book. As explained in the statement, these are the changes which have been made in order to obtain for the new prayer book popular and parliamentary approval.

1. Removal of a clause in the prayer book which was interpreted as giving the archbishops and bishops a general power to make rules having the force of rubrics (which are fixed rules) governing the entire public worship of the Church of England.

2. Giving of adequate protection to ministers who have conscientious objections to the deposited book (as the revised prayer book is known).

3. Provision that prayer for the king shall be offered every morning and night during the year.

4. Pining of the black rubric in the amended deposited book at the end of the alternative order. Failure to do this was the big reason why the revised measure was defeated by the house of commons last December 15.

The black rubric says of kneeling: "That thereby no adoration is intended or ought to be done either to the sacramental bread or wine there laid, received into any corporeal presence of Christ's natural flesh and blood."

Opponents of the revised book asserted that failure to include this in the alternative prayers indicated a concession to the Anglo-Catholics and a leaning away from Protestantism.

Not in centuries has there been so much church controversy in England as at present.

The bishop of Birmingham, a moderate, started the controversy with his declaration of faith in the theory of evolution and his condemnation of the communion service as "black magic."

POPE NOT TO ENCOURAGE NEW CONFERENCE

Rome, January 20.—(United News.)—Resumption of the Malines conversations between Roman Catholics and Anglo-Catholics, looking to church unity, certainly will not occur with the consent and encouragement of the pope, Observatore Romano, the official vatican organ, said today.

"Although the holy father was interested in the development of the conversations," Observatore Romano said, "he acknowledged them merely as an affair between private persons not invested with any sort of mandate."

MAGAZINE CENSORSHIP PROPOSED TO CONGRESS

Washington, January 20.—(P.)—Establishment of a national board of book and magazine censorship to curb the publication of obscene articles and pictures was proposed in a bill today by Representative Tillman, democrat, Arkansas.

Braves Ice Perils To Save Trapper

Duluth, Minn., January 20.—(P.)—A story of a 48-hour battle against high waves and ice cakes on Lake Superior in an open rowboat, equipped with an outboard motor, to bring a friend to the mainland for medical attention, started the controversy here today.

Arthur Anderson, Michigan state trapper from Isle Royal.

Ralph Anderson, 35, another Isle Royal trapper, is the man whose life Arthur Anderson is believed to have saved when Ralph became seriously ill a week ago. They are not related.

Hearing of Ralph's plight, through another trapper, Arthur started out in his small boat, following the shore line of Isle Royal to Rock Harbor, where he picked up the sick man.

Started Journey Wednesday. The journey began at 6 p. m. Wednesday, January 11. The lake was choppy, Anderson said, and after running about 15 miles through the ice cakes, he put in at Chippewa harbor. The next morning the weather was still bad and it was snowing heavily.

Undaunted, he wrapped his ill companion warmly and set out into the open lake to battle the high seas, floating ice cakes and the shattering wind. He reached Hay Bay, about 20 miles farther on, before being forced to seek shelter.

Friday morning they again started out, putting into Washington harbor for shelter, and then on to a trapper's cabin there. Later the wind shifted to the northeast, aiding the small motor, and they were able to make Grand Portage on the mainland. The total trip covered 78 miles.

By automobile they made their way Saturday through snowdrifts to the Two Harbors' hospital. Anderson is now receiving treatment for typhoid fever and is considered out of danger.

VALE LEAVES TO PRESS FIGHT IN CAPITAL

Philadelphia, January 20.—(P.)—Reiterating his determination to carry his fight for a seat in the United States senate to a "definite conclusion," Senator-elect William S. Vale left for Washington tonight.

Tomorrow he said, his reply to the amended petition of William B. Wilson will be submitted to the committee on privileges and elections, headed by Senator Shortridge.

Vale said that he had no immediate plans of action, other than to press for a seat in the senate, thereby indicating that at present he is giving little consideration to the thought of becoming a candidate again in the April primary election.

BY C. P. WILLIAMSON.

London, January 20.—(United News.)—The archbishops of Canterbury and York issued a statement tonight explaining the latest revisions in the prayer book and a new enabling act which parliament must pass before the revisions can become effective.

The statement attempts to "remove misapprehensions and make more clear and more explicit" the intentions and limitations of the 1928 prayer book. As explained in the statement, these are the changes which have been made in order to obtain for the new prayer book popular and parliamentary approval.

1. Removal of a clause in the prayer book which was interpreted as giving the archbishops and bishops a general power to make rules having the force of rubrics (which are fixed rules) governing the entire public worship of the Church of England.

2. Giving of adequate protection to ministers who have conscientious objections to the deposited book (as the revised prayer book is known).

3. Provision that prayer for the king shall be offered every morning and night during the year.

4. Pining of the black rubric in the amended deposited book at the end of the alternative order. Failure to do this was the big reason why the revised measure was defeated by the house of commons last December 15.

The black rubric says of kneeling: "That thereby no adoration is intended or ought to be done either to the sacramental bread or wine there laid, received into any corporeal presence of Christ's natural flesh and blood."

Opponents of the revised book asserted that failure to include this in the alternative prayers indicated a concession to the Anglo-Catholics and a leaning away from Protestantism.

Not in centuries has there been so much church controversy in England as at present.

The bishop of Birmingham, a moderate, started the controversy with his declaration of faith in the theory of evolution and his condemnation of the communion service as "black magic."

POPE NOT TO ENCOURAGE NEW CONFERENCE

Rome, January 20.—(United News.)—Resumption of the Malines conversations between Roman Catholics and Anglo-Catholics, looking to church unity, certainly will not occur with the consent and encouragement of the pope, Observatore Romano, the official vatican organ, said today.

"Although the holy father was interested in the development of the conversations," Observatore Romano said, "he acknowledged them merely as an affair between private persons not invested with any sort of mandate."

FARM HEADS 'SING' PRAISE OF LOWDEN

Rock Island, Ill., January 20.—(P.)—Acclaiming Frank O. Lowden as the man to lift them from their economic mire and promising political obliteration for those who failed to support farm relief legislation, members of the Illinois Agricultural association today ended their annual convention.

At the final luncheon in the dining hall of the world's largest arsenal, located on a little island in the Mississippi river between the trillies, the farmers again justly sang the state song, "Illinois," with the former governor's name inserted.

Death Keeps Lowden Away. Silent followed the reading of a telegram sent to Earl C. Smith, president of the I. A. A. by Mr. Lowden telling him of the sudden death of John W. Dwight, close friend and political advisor, in the east, thus necessitating his absence as the guest of honor.

Governor Adam McMullen, of Nebraska, hailed the former governor of Illinois as the man of the hour, who as president of the United States would inspire the solution of the farmers' ills.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD BY MORMONS TO HONOR LEADERS

W. H. WILLSON, 57, CLAIMED BY DEATH

William Harry Willson, 57, prominent in Atlanta business circles as president and treasurer of the Blue Life company, died Friday morning at his home, 957 Briarcliff road, following a brief illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Willson was born in Hope, Ark., and was for a number of years prominent in the business life in that state. Later he established business in Oklahoma and in Denver, Colo., before coming to Georgia. He came to Atlanta about six years ago and made a remarkable success in business.

He started with the Blue Life company as sales manager for Georgia, later acquired the entire southern territory and subsequently secured a controlling interest in the company and was elected as its treasurer and president. He also had numerous other business interests in the city. He had purchased several large plantations and peach groves in south Georgia and became identified with a number of developments in that part of the state.

Mr. Willson was active in church and civic circles of the city. He was chairman of the finance board and a deacon in the Ponce de Leon Baptist church and a member of the Atlanta Athletic club, the Kiwanis club and other civic organizations.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, W. H., Jr., and James Van Arsdale Willson; a daughter, Suzanne Marilyn Willson; his mother, Mrs. Sarah Willson, of Denver, Colo.; a sister, Miss Alma Willson, of Denver, and five brothers, Earl Willson, of Tulsa, Okla.; Walter Willson, of Muskogee, Okla.; J. M. Willson, of Denver, and Troup and Joseph Willson, both of Jonesboro, Ark.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Sam R. Greenberg & Co.

TWO CARLOADS OF GEORGIA HOGS SHIPPED TO CUBA

Increased movements of Georgia hogs toward Cuban markets were reported this week by the state bureau of markets, which stated that two carloads had been shipped from Arlington, Ga., to Havana, and that before the week was ended Cuban buyers would receive one or two more cars of Georgia porkers.

The recent renewed demand for hogs from this state was attributed by the bureau to a trip made to Cuba recently by Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, with a view to marketing more Georgia hogs there.

Lively activity in cooperative sales of potatoes was also reported by the bureau for the week.

Mayor Pro Tem Claude Ashley, alderman from the fourth ward, Friday occupied the mayor's chair for the first time in the absence from his office of Mayor I. N. Ragsdale. Among the important papers which Mr. Ashley approved as mayor was one providing for purchase of a 52-acre strip of land on South Boulevard for establishment of the Chosewood park. The city recently sold the old site to the Chevrolet company and has acquired the new one.

Get in Line for Your Share Of Great Protective Sum

Get in line for your share of $53,000.
The cost is negligible. If you "cash in" on your small investment the money will come to you or your loved ones at a time when it is most of all needed.

Be wise—prepare with insurance against the ever-mounting wave of traffic accidents which is sweeping the entire country. You can't afford to take chances with your financial independence or the comfort of your family.

Take advantage today of the sensational offer of The Constitution to its readers of the famous $7,500 travel accident policy issued by the North American Insurance company, of Chicago. This old and reliable concern already has paid more than $25,000 in claims to Constitution policyholders.

The policy, which costs only $125 per year, provides for payment of sums ranging from $7,500 in case of death resulting from certain accidents; heavy cash payment for permanent injuries and $70 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from the stated accidents. And the cost is only a fraction of a penny a day.

A train wreck, a crash of automobiles, the speeding wheels of an on-rushing car or burning building may leave you a victim of the ever-growing wave of accidents today.

In this paper appear regular advertisements supplying full details of the great offer. Watch for them.

This $7,500 travel, $2,000 auto and $1,000 pedestrian accident policy is issued only to subscribers of The Daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 17 and 70 at $125 per year.

One who is now taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier, monthly or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Those taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a postoffice or rural route delivery for one year are eligible by paying $125 per year per policy above the subscription price.

In sending applications for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, full Christian name must be given and relation of same to the insured.

Work will be started immediately on two 18 and one nine-hole golf courses for the Atlanta park and playground system, a new bath house, two new playgrounds and several other improvements which are expected to be opened to the public when the 1928 play season in municipal parks begins in May. It was announced Friday by Commissioner John A. White, chairman of the parks and recreation city council. The 18-hole courses will be built at the White and Atlanta athletic parks, while the Candler course will be nine holes.

HEARING ON LANCASTER BOND PETITION HEARD

Following a hearing Friday afternoon on application for bail, filed in behalf of Carl Lancaster, Atlanta lawyer, recently indicted on charges brought by a young woman stenographer, Judge E. D. Thomas, of Fulton superior court, asked that prosecution and defense counsel present a brief of evidence in the case pending his decision in the matter, which will probably be announced Monday.

Eleven defense witnesses were put up, followed by two for the state, including the girl's father and her family physician.

Dr. Guy King, of Chattahoochee, is chairman of the organization committee, while Harry O. Williamson, of Atlanta, is chairman, and Mr. Mitchell is secretary. The second regional conference will be held this fall in a city to be named later. The first regional conference was held last March in Atlanta.

MERCHANTS TO MEET IN ATLANTA IN 1929

Atlanta will be the 1929 convention city of the National League of Commission Merchants, which Friday closed its 1928 convention in Boston, Mass., according to a wire received here Friday from Edgar Milam, of Green and Milam, local produce concern.

The meeting will be held in January of next year and will assemble over 400 delegates here from all parts of the country, it is estimated.

Motion Picture Exhibit Offered Atlanta People

An exhibition of home motion pictures showing the remarkable progress this new development has made during the past few years will be given in the afternoon and night of Monday and Tuesday in the Atlanta Baltimore ballroom through the courtesy of the Eastman Kodak company.

The feature of the exhibition will be an amateur motion picture play, "Fly Low Jack and the Game," conceived, produced, staged and by the Community Players of Rochester, N. Y., an amateur theatrical group representative of that city's social and artistic life. It is the story, briefly, of two war aviators who aspire to a polar flight and of a girl who goes up in a plane and comes down in the water and yet is not a trans-Atlantic flyer.

Sections of war films made by the signal corps of the United States army and navy and released to the public through the Eastman Kodak company also will be shown as part of the exhibition. This film is distinguished by scenes showing the torpedoing and sinking of an allied merchantman by a German "U" boat. These scenes were taken by the submarine commanders and were later captured by American troops in a salient on the western front. The complete war film from which these sections were taken was pronounced by General Pershing to be the greatest visual record of the war he had seen.

Coupled with the amateur motion picture play and the war films will be a selection of professional comedies and educational pictures, on miniature film, such as thousands of American homes have for their projectors like records for talking machines.

Music for the exhibition will be furnished by a double disc phonograph with a radio amplifier. In addition to affording the musical program for the exhibition the device indicates how even an ordinary phonograph may be used as an accompaniment for home movie showings.

The exhibition is an itinerant one, making a two-year tour of the principal cities of the country. In the cities where it has so far been shown it has been enthusiastically acclaimed by the public and the press. Complimentary tickets are being given out by the Cine-Kodak dealers in the city.

NEGRO PROVES ALIBI IN CLEVELAND DEATH

After satisfactorily accounting for his movements at the time of the shooting of W. H. Cleveland, manager of the filling station at Houston street and Boulevard some time ago, John Johnson, negro, was freed Friday afternoon, following a severe grilling by police officers. He was arrested Monday on charges of suspicion but proved his innocence, according to Detective Lieutenant T. D. Slabaugh.

The negro said that he was working in another section of the city on a concrete construction job and his story was corroborated by a foreman and fellow workers, according to police.

Earl Thompson, another negro arrested in connection with the shooting of Cleveland, was held in the city jail by police officers. He was charged with being the man who shot Cleveland. Thompson, monthly or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Those taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a postoffice or rural route delivery for one year are eligible by paying $125 per year per policy above the subscription price.

In sending applications for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, full Christian name must be given and relation of same to the insured.

Rich's Will Be Host At Children's Radio Concert by Damrosch

Rich & Sons, Inc., has issued an invitation for children to gather in its ready-to-wear department on the third floor at 6 o'clock tonight to hear a radio broadcast of the event.

The invitation was extended through Miss Ruth Homan, chairman of public school music, being especially extended to every child over 10 years of age. The program will be sponsored by the Atlanta Music club.

The Alabama street entrance of the Rich store will be opened at 6:30 o'clock tonight and a special elevator will be put into service for the event. Children are requested to be in their seats at 6:45 o'clock.

MITCHELL RETURNS AFTER FORMATION OF NEW TRADE BODY

Harry O. Mitchell, manager of the Atlanta district of the department of commerce, returned to Atlanta Friday morning from Savannah, where he participated in the organization of a regional trade association of the southeastern states. The new organization is to be known as the Southeastern Foreign Trade council.

Dr. Guy King, of Chattahoochee, is chairman of the organization committee, while Harry O. Williamson, of Atlanta, is chairman, and Mr. Mitchell is secretary. The second regional conference will be held this fall in a city to be named later. The first regional conference was held last March in Atlanta.

CORRIE, HARWELL QUALIFY FOR RACE

Walter Harwell and A. M. Corrie qualified Friday for positions as Fulton county tax receiver and sheriff, respectively, subject to the county democratic primary of March 7.

Mr. Harwell at present is city marshal and will make the race for the receiver's position in opposition to Edwin F. Johnson, who is now a member of Fulton county commission.

Mr. Corrie, an engineer on the Southern railroad, will, if elected, seek to have prisoners conveyed to and from the county jail to the courthouse in coaches instead of manacled to chains, he declared in a lengthy announcement. Mr. Corrie announced a ticket at the same time and will oppose Sheriff James I. Lowry, incumbent.

Judge Jesse M. Wood, of criminal court of Atlanta, also has qualified to succeed himself.

Mr. Corrie's announcement follows: "I am a candidate for sheriff of Fulton county, subject to the democratic primary March 7, and will appreciate your support and influence."

"The present sheriff will have served you twelve years at the close of 1928. This office belongs to the people and I feel that Mr. Lowry certainly has been treated with the utmost courtesy by the voters who have elected him for three successive terms."

"Now let's give another ticket an opportunity to hold this office."

"The following gentlemen of Fulton county are on my ticket and I can recommend them highly: J. M. Johnson, J. W. Young, T. C. Hutchison, E. M. Trammell, Virgil Phillips, O. T. Hoxes, S. W. Ivey, T. B. Sale, L. H. Roberts, L. C. Donelson, W. T. Butt, T. E. Harper, W. S. King, W. L. Smith, F. O. Hildebrand, M. C. Morris, J. B. Hand, W. P. Gresham, T. Z. Dean, E. Steadman, Ryan, G. C. Epps, C. H. Pope and W. M. Rouch."

"I have been a citizen of Fulton county for 42 years and an employee of the Southern railway throughout that time. I am proud I am handling the crack Southern train, Royal Palm."

"If I am elected, I will abide by and carry out the laws as prescribed for this office. I feel that there is one great improvement that should be made and that is to convey the prisoners to the courthouse and back to the jail by coach, as no man is guilty until he is proved so, yet he is humiliated by being led between the jail and the courthouse manacled to a chain."

"I am a Mason, a member of the Red Men, Junior Order of American Mechanics and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers."

GAS PRICES REDUCED CENT A GALLON HERE

Gasoline in the Atlanta district was reduced one cent a gallon Friday by all of the oil companies of the city following the announcement by C. S. Bunch, independent operator, that a slash of one cent per gallon had been made on his stations. Gas is now being bought at 18 cents per gallon.

The national companies reduced their prices to meet the reduction made by C. S. Bunch when they were notified of the cut.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, after it has killed the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Most coughs if a creosote or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—(adv.)

Georgia Democrats Meet Here Today To Name George Choice for White House

Harmony Prevailing on Eve of State Executive Committee Gathering in Atlanta This Morning.

Unanimous support of United States Senator Walter F. George will be voted by the state democratic executive committee at its meeting to be held at 11 o'clock Saturday on the Ansley hotel roof and harmony will prevail in all the deliberations of that body, according to the program adopted by leaders of the committee as disclosed Friday night.

No questions of a serious nature which might possibly cause a division of sentiment will arise according to the leaders, who stated Friday night that there is an overwhelming sentiment among the delegates for the endorsement of Senator George as the Georgia delegation's candidate for president at the Houston convention in June.

Chairman Ed Maddox, who recently attended the Jackson day dinner at Washington, is a strong supporter of Senator George for the democratic nomination and stated he would like to see Senator George obtain the unanimous support of the democrats of Georgia for this post. He said the candidacy of Senator George had won surprisingly strong support of many of the leaders of the national democratic party and that his candidacy was assuming formidable aspects.

Lists Are Open. Although a strong supporter of Senator George, Chairman Maddox expressed the opinion that the lists should be left open for a short time so that any other candidate for the nomination could enter the race. If no other candidate enters, then the state committee should select a delegation to the Houston convention pledged to support Senator George.

Officers of the committee are G. Ed Maddox, Rome, chairman; Mrs. Eddie Anderson, Atlanta, secretary; A. S. Chandler, Bartow, and Sam A. Nunn, vice chairmen. Mrs. Edgar Alexander, national democratic committeewoman from Georgia, and Major John S. Cohen, national democratic committeeman from Georgia, are ex-officio members of the state committee.

New Atlanta Traffic Signs

Showing flexibility and effectiveness of the new traffic signal "stop" signs being installed along Atlanta's through traffic highways. They are replacing the rigid, iron stop signals which, it is claimed by traffic experts, are a menace to machines and conducive to accidents. The new signs are made of a rubber composition and after being run over will fly back into place to warn the next car approaching the intersection.

Georgia's Twelve 'Master Farmers' Will Be Honored

Georgia's twelve "Master Farmers" will be honored guests at 6:30 o'clock tonight at a dinner to be given at the Biltmore hotel by the Georgia State College of Agriculture and the "Progressive Farmer and Farm Woman."

These twelve men have been awarded this high honor as the result of their well-rounded development in all important phases of farm life. Not only have they been successful in a business way in the organization and management of their respective farms and in marketing their products but they possess the personal qualities that have been manifested in the appearance and the upkeep of their farms, in the refinement and convenience afforded by the home, in the respect accorded them by their neighbors and in the interest in their communities and general public affairs.

Nominees for the 1927 awards were presented by 78 counties in all sections of Georgia. Every record was studied in detail. Personal visits were made to the farms of twenty-four of these. After most earnest and painstaking effort the twelve men were selected to receive the award.

WOMAN SENTENCED FOR BAD CHECKS. Mrs. Eunice Walker, who entered a guilty plea Friday afternoon to three charges of writing bad checks, was sentenced to from one to two years at the state farm by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court.

South Will Have 6 Citizens' Army Camps This Year

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is listed among those who have given endorsement to the citizens' military training camps, which will be conducted this summer, six in the southeastern states, says an announcement Friday from Major General Richmond P. Davis, commanding the fourth corps area.

In announcing the sites of the training camps, for which 5,200 applications will be accepted, beginning February 1, Major General Davis made public a letter received by fourth corps headquarters from the noted trans-oceanic flier which said:

"The citizens' military training camps present an excellent opportunity to young men for physical improvement and training in team work, self-discipline and the principles of citizenship at government expense. These camps are doing much to promote right living and clear thinking."

The southeastern camps, each for 30 days, beginning June 17, will be at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., cavalry; Fort Screven, Ga., infantry; Camp McClellan, Ala., infantry; Camp Bragg, N. C., field artillery; Fort Moultrie, S. C., infantry, and Fort Barrancas, Fla., coast artillery.

LOCAL LAND BANK HAD SUCCESSFUL YEAR DURING 1927

The Atlanta Joint Stock Land bank enjoyed a successful year during 1927. Its mortgage loans now amount to $6,064,000, while its total assets exceed $8,600,000, it was announced following a meeting of the board of directors.

During the past year semi-annual dividends of 3 1/2 per cent each were paid to shareholders. The bank now has paid in capital amounting to $250,000, while the surplus and profits account are in excess of $105,000.

MINE RELIEF BODY ASKS MORE MONEY TO ASSIST FAMILIES

Pittsburgh, January 20.—(United News.)—The executive committee of the history of the mine relief fund issued a statement today saying that the conditions in mining camps of Allegheny county are steadily growing worse.

The report which was signed by a number of prominent members of the clergy of Allegheny county made an urgent appeal for more funds to aid the striking miners.

CABELL HOPKINS VISITING FATHER

Cabell Hopkins, son of Linton C. Hopkins, Atlanta attorney, is visiting in Atlanta for a few days as the guest of his father, at 136 Seventh street.

Mr. Hopkins, who has been identified with the First National Bank of Boston since last summer, is in the course of a southern business trip in company with W. Latimer Gray, assistant vice president of the bank.

COOPERATION URGED AS AID TO REALTORS

Closer cooperation between members of the real estate profession in Atlanta as a means of adding to the prosperity of that business was urged by C. F. Palmer, well-known office building executive, as the keynote of his address before the Atlanta real estate board at its annual banquet Friday night, at the Atlanta Athletic club.

"An illustration of what is gained by cooperation of this kind can be clearly seen from the fact that, while only 28 per cent of the real estate operators in Atlanta are realtors, this group is responsible for 40 per cent of all the business," Mr. Palmer stated. As a cardinal point on which real estate men of Atlanta can work together for their own benefit and the general betterment of local conditions, Mr. Palmer called attention to the necessity for a more just distribution of taxes.

Because real estate is the easiest form of property on which to assess, it has had to bear the burden of municipal and state taxes, the office building head asserted. "An association of realtors such as we have here can help the city and state control this item of taxes that now eats into our business," he said. In this respect Mr. Palmer recommended some such device for the realtors as is maintained by the Association of Building Owners and Managers in its building planning service.

The meeting was presided over by Frank C. Owens, newly elected president of the Atlanta real estate board. More than 100 realtors were present at the gathering, which was the largest in history of the local organization. Mr. Owens stated. At the close of the meeting Mr. Owens named the board committees for the current year. A new firm members fund to be inaugurated by the board was outlined by the president, through which 10 per cent of the income of the organization through its appraisal work is to be divided at the end of the year among firms holding membership mentioned by Mr. Owens is the offering of a watch trophy for the board member doing the best work during the year, officers and directors excluded.

Camp Fire Girls Fund Campaign Given Approval

Approval and indorsement of a campaign for funds with which to purchase a camp site at Toccoa Falls, in the mountains of north Georgia, for Camp Fire Girls, was received Friday in a communication to Mrs. Tom Brooks, president of the Atlanta Camp Fire organization, from W. D. Hoffman, chairman of the public campaign indorsement committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

This is in line with permission granted by the budget committee of the Community Chest given last fall and Mr. Hoffman officially assigned the dates for the campaign for February 17 through February 24.

The committee in charge of arrangements, which is made up of Dr. Harvey W. Cox, Marvin E. Underwood and Herbert E. Chase, announced Friday that plans are under way for putting on the drive at the time designated.

The Camp Fire organization of the Atlanta district has searched for several years for the best location in Georgia for a permanent camp and they have secured a tract of land in the mountain at Toccoa Falls. The site embraces 187 acres of rugged and wooded land with a free flowing stream of water which has been tested and pronounced excellent by the state health department, Mrs. Brooks said.

FOUR ATLANTA BOYS ON CRUISER "TULSA"

Four Atlanta boys and eight other Georgians are now on board the "U. S. S. Tulsa," which is cruising in Nicaraguan waters, according to an announcement Friday from the United States navy recruiting station here. The Atlantans are James L. Reeves, Henry P. Sanders, Henry C. Sinyard and Samuel H. Wallace.

In addition there are Joseph Murphy, of Augusta; William M. Rignall, of Statesboro; James D. Hill, of Acree; James R. Lovins and Joseph A. Mathews, of Reynolds; James O. Smith, of Macon; Charles W. Strickland, of Woodbury, and Fred W. Jones, of Macon. All of these were enlisted at the Atlanta recruiting station.

HEALTH OFFICERS HEAR GOVERNOR AT ANNUAL MEET.

Progress made by the state health department during the last few years was reviewed Friday by Governor L. G. Hardman in a speech delivered at the annual conference of county health officers, held in the office of the state health department at the capitol.

The program for the last day of the conference Saturday includes addresses by Robert F. Maddox, president of the Georgia state board of health; James P. E. Sullivan, of the Georgia Tuberculosis association, and Dr. Joseph P. Boudoin, of the state health department.

MARIETTA-KENNESAW DETOUR IS COMPLETED

Work on the detour between Marietta and Kennesaw on the Atlanta-Chatanooga highway has been finished and that part of the road is now open to traffic, it was announced Friday by John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway board.

Because of bad weather, the state highway department was unable to finish the work on this important detour as early as it desired and for a time automobiles experienced considerable difficulty in passing over this part of the road.

The Atlanta-Chatanooga highway is one of the most important roads leading into Atlanta and the detour provides a good road around the construction work now under way on the regular highway.

COCA-COLA CLOWNS IN MARIONETTE SHOW

Two Coca-Cola clowns, a dog and a soda dispenser made their appearance this week in a marionette skit, unique retail window feature staged by the Coca-Cola company. It was shown in Crawford's drug store window, and hundreds of persons stopped in front of the window and viewed the presentation.

The skit was designed and staged by Miss Sue Hastings, a pupil of Tony Sarg, master of marionette performers. She conducted many experiments with dolls before selecting the cast, which provides an amusing entertainment and an impressive advertisement for the soft drink.

Keith's Georgia.

The Harry Carroll big time show closes its engagement at Keith's Georgia theater tonight and has been one of the best liked and most popular of the many unit ideas seen at the Georgia. Ken Murray, acting as "spokesman," has created a great following for his ability to entertain and makes the audience laugh. This is his last visit, although he has been in the circuit several years. Harry Carroll appeared at the Georgia in seasons, but his revue is larger and more pretentious than any yet shown.

Capitol.

With long and flowing heads that are grey and long locks hanging down their backs, the House of David band this week is proving itself an exceptional musical organization in both the popular and jazz and classical fields. Half a score of musical numbers in both these fields make their program highly entertaining. Supporting the House of David band is a very clever bill which offers "No-nonsense" Fagan, one of the finest comedians in Atlanta stage has held; "Youth," a beautiful dance act featuring a quartet of lovely girls; Fred Morton and Harry Barry and company. On the screen this week is "The Coburns and Kellys in Paris."

Loew's Grand.

James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion of the world, and his partner, funny little Bobby Barry, will appear at four performances at Loew's Grand theater Saturday, ending one of the most successful engagements ever played here by a vaudeville attraction. Other acts on the bill are George Frederick and company, Elsie and Paulson, Kosonon, the pretty little "Japanese flapper," and Violet Ray and Norma, have balanced. The picture is "The Student Prince," with Norma Shearer and Ramon Novarro in leading roles.

Howard.

Douglas Fairbanks' latest—and many say his best—production to date, "The Gambler," will be shown for the last time at the Howard today. A more colorful romance than this South American story, with its majestic scenery, its tense rivalries and conquests, could scarcely be conceived. Again, Fairbanks, actor-producer, brings to his world audience a series of narrative designed to run with the epics of all time. John Murray Anderson's "Tokio Blues" is the Public stage show offered at the Howard. The story, which is the first time, is in charge of the first time, and has made an excellent impression on Howard patrons.

Rialto.

"The Pioneer Scout" with Fred Thompson, closes at the Rialto theater today. Since the famous hero is one of Thompson's chief supporters in the cast. The beauty parlor comedy, called "Boys Will Be Girls," which is a comedy of the "Pioneer Scout," is the "Opening Night," starring Claire Windsor, will open Monday in a blaze of brilliant light and through Wednesday and will be succeeded by "Coney Island," which has an all-star cast and which will run through Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Jingle Contest Nears End; Many Entries Are Received

BY ALBERT HARDY, JR.
Jingle Contest Editor.

Only three more days remain before the jingle contest, being conducted by The Constitution, as a follow-up of the "Milk-for-Health" campaign, ends. Monday night at 6 o'clock is the last possible minute jingles can be submitted for consideration by the judges of the contest. Hundreds of boys and girls of Fulton, DeKalb and Cobb counties have mailed in their jingles on the themes "Milk-for-Health" or "The Value of Milk as a Food." Teachers in the various schools have encouraged their pupils to write jingles and as a result the contest is proving to be a success.

The entire 6.1 grade of the State Street school sent in jingles Friday afternoon and the jingles certainly meet the requirements as set out in the rules of the contest. They were for the most part original, snappy, neat and clearly prove the literary talent of the pupils for such a grade. Philip Holing, 12, of 637 Tifton street, a pupil in the grade, wrote the following jingle:

Sugars and fats furnish us heat,
Minerals build bones that are hard to beat.

How to Enter—Simply send your manuscript to the scenario contest editor of The Constitution. You do not have to be a Constitution subscriber to compete. It costs you nothing to enter.

All manuscripts must be written legibly, on one side of the paper only, and none of the synopsis may exceed 1,000 words. Either a synopsis or scene outline is acceptable. A film synopsis is an outline of the story. A scenario is the story, developed scene by scene. All manuscripts must be on the upper left-hand corner of every page. All manuscripts must carry this complete address: "Scenario Contest Editor, The Constitution, P. O. Box 1234, Atlanta, Ga."

Picture to Be Produced.
Object—The primary object of each contestant shall be to prepare scenario or synopsis most suitable for production. The picture to be produced, to be filmed in Atlanta and acted by Atlanta amateurs.

Plot and action must be laid in the most dramatic and interesting manner. Two or more scenes in The Constitution building. Costume stories are not desired. No persons is to be ridiculed or abused. All characters should be of good nature. No religious, political or business prejudices are to be involved. Morbid or unpleasant scenes or scenes of violence are not wanted. Some of the scenes must be laid on the stage of the Howard theater. So far as possible, the picture should be of a nature to give numerous characters rather than a few. Where there is evidence of plagiarism in any form, manuscript shall be automatically rejected.

When he failed to find employment he asked police to arrest him as a vagrant so that he might be sent to jail and out of the cold. They did not. When the story was told to Judge Hitt, he instead of passing sentence, passed his hat around the courtroom, collecting more than $100. Then Attorney Harry Whelan stepped forward and promised to take care of the youth and get him a job.

DURANT ANNOUNCES NEW STAR FOUR LINE

New York, January 20.—Coming as a sensational climax to recent auto news of offerings are W. C. Durant's Star Four models, springing a big surprise on the knowing ones in the industry. This year W. C. Durant celebrates his silver anniversary—25 years of service in the automobile industry, and it was generally conceded that he would commemorate this in a way which would be a fitting climax to his many years of leadership in the field.

His newly-announced, speedy and economical Star Four motor has been developed to exceed 40 brake-horsepower, with a sustained speed of 60 miles per hour, of from 58 to 68 miles per hour. Four-wheel Bendix mechanical brakes will match this increased speed with increased safety. They are of the 3-shoe type, with a large 11-inch brake drum, positive and simple of adjustment and action.

The wheelbase has been lengthened to 107 inches. New extra large, simple-circuit springs have been developed, using a new process which is said to give such superior riding qualities that shock absorbers are unnecessary. Interiors have been greatly enlarged and made much roomier, giving a new comfort to the car already famed for its easy-riding qualities.

The motor has a bore of 3.38 inches and a stroke of 4.14 inches, with displacement of 152 cubic inches, is rubber mounted, and equipped with Morse Silent Chain timing. Force-feed lubrication and a vacuum system for the water pump are also features. The large gas tank is in the rear. The new beauty of the line is conspicuous in the preparation of the car, making an impressive front view and giving a perfect streamline effect. New large full crown fenders, lower top, and striking new color combinations.

In addition to the debate already held this year, Emory and Wofford will have four other debates at home, and four trips away with 16 additional encounters, making a total of 31 encounters for this year. This is the largest program ever attempted at Emory.

This year for the first time in the history of the university Emory will invade the north. The northern tour will be made by R. W. McEluffee, of Louisville, Ky., and Wallace M. Allen, of West Virginia university, Gettysburg, Pa., and Fordham university, New York City, and University of South Carolina and Wofford college.

PEGLER WOULD TAKE VOTE ON MR. CHARLES STONEHAM

QUESTION: "IS CHARLIE STONEHAM A BIG STIFF?"

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
New York, January 20.—It has been explained that Rogers Hornsby was transferred from the home plant of the New York Giants to the Boston branch as a reproof for some disrespect that he offered to Mr. Charles Stoneham, proprietor of the Giants. This may be accepted as a good and sufficient reason if baseball is a business and the ball players are mere employees. If baseball is a sport and the ball players are public heroes, it is not a reason, but an impertinence.

In several years of more or less intimate observation of the baseball industry I have not been able to find out from the proprietor whether baseball as organized in the professional leagues, is a business or a sport. Usually the proprietors think that it is a sport and all they would like to do is to develop a personal grudge against a ball player and decide to fire or leave him regardless of how the patrons feel about it.

There may be lots of patrons or customers of the New York Giants who hold Mr. Stoneham in no greater awe than Mr. Hornsby did. If these people are mere customers of a business house they have no right to protest or dictate in the matter, but are at liberty to exercise the right of all customers to withhold their patronage. If, however, they are patrons of a sport, and Hornsby is a hero, and Stoneham is merely a steward of the game, they obviously should have been consulted before he decided their hero was sent away in reprisal for some mere breach of manners, is an affront to them.

One Must Be Practical.
Of course, one must be practical and it would be silly to expect a baseball manager to prepare ballots, vote on voting machines and police the polling places in order to record the sentiment of all the accredited patrons every time the club manager found it advisable to farm out a recruit infielder for further seasoning in Toledo. In ordinary inter-club trades undertaken for the purpose of strengthening the lineup, it is not feasible to ask the customers their opinion. They must rely upon the sagacity of the club manager, and though they may feel that management is being badly out-traded, they usually acquiesce on the ground that he is doing it for their benefit.

But when a star ball player, embodying as Hornsby did, about 30 per cent of the ball club's value, is sent away because he doesn't like the proprietor, it is a different matter. It is a case where the customer's opinion should be asked.

When a star ball player, embodying as Hornsby did, about 30 per cent of the ball club's value, is sent away because he doesn't like the proprietor, it is a case where the customer's opinion should be asked.

PAL FLASHES EL PASO OPEN GREAT FORM TO LEAD PACK STARTS TODAY

Grand Junction, Tenn., January 20.—(AP)—A final series to run off outstanding contenders will be necessary to determine the champion bird dog of America for 1928.

This was found necessary after judges had witnessed today's runs, which concluded the first series, and developed as a championship contender the setter Fagin's Molavak bird, who won the championship of the year ago. Fagin, owned by E. M. Tutwiler, Jr., of Birmingham, won his title in a rather mediocre race in which none of the challengers did better than 100 yds. Fagin, however, had a much higher grade of competition he ran a far better lead.

He was run against the pointer Trump, owned by J. C. Bingham, of Louisville. Trump, Irwin made the first find, but after that Fagin had his own way, finding six holes of medal play. Thirty-six holes were played tomorrow, but had no success in attempts to better the record-breaking 60 lung up yesterday. MacLean Smith, Great Smith, a professional, Smith's brilliant performance was seven strikes under par.

Armour Holds Title.
"Lighthouse" Harry Cooper, of Los Angeles, was among today's arrivals for the tournament, which calls for 22 holes of medal play. Thirty-six holes were played tomorrow, but had no success in attempts to better the record-breaking 60 lung up yesterday. MacLean Smith, Great Smith, a professional, Smith's brilliant performance was seven strikes under par.

Besides Smith, Armour and Cooper, the entries include such stars as Bobby Cruikshank, New York; Willie Hunter, of Los Angeles; Al and Abe Espinosa, Chicagoans; Joe Turnesa, New York; 12 negro stars, Joplin, Mo., and a score of others.

TRIS SPEAKER Marietta Cagers MAY BE WITH JERSEY CITY

Hubbard, Texas, January 20.—(AP)—Tris Speaker, star outfielder of the Washington Senators, said here today he had no knowledge of his reported move to Jersey City, N. J., where he would be with the Jersey City club of the International league.

This revealed, however, that he had been sounded out by George Stallings, manager of the new Montreal club, of the same league, in regard to joining the Canadian team. No definite offer was made by Stallings and Speaker would not indicate whether he would entertain one.

"If any proposition has been made by Jersey City, it has not yet reached me," Speaker said.

The veteran outfielder is virtually a free agent, but the Senators may retain his services by tendering a contract before February 1.

President Griffith, of the Washington club, was quoted in dispatches as saying Jersey City was dickering for Speaker.

GOLF'S BIG MOMENTS

ASK MR. TRACY ABOUT FREAK GOLF HAPPENINGS
BY WHITNER CARY

Speaking of queer and remarkable happenings on a golf course naturally brings to the picture that big case of freak episodes that found N. W. Tracy, well known golfer of his city, cast in the leading role.

It may be that you have heard about them. If so you may discount them and find your morning thrill in reading of murders, kidnappings and the latest and boldest divorce. But if it so happens that you have lived in this city but a short time, have missed reading the public press of some several years ago or have not a close friendship with Mr. Tracy or the other actors in the scene then lead me to your ears and prepare to hear that which will make you believe in the occult.

It was about six years ago. The scene the terrain immediately surrounding the ninth hole on the Ansley park golf course. Mr. Tracy and the three other members of his foursome had holed their last putt, had muttered their last imprecation at the man who invented golf, had settled the last bet and were just starting to the clubhouse. The first alibi had been given. The first alibi had been given. The first alibi had been given.

ACE HUDKINS BEATS DUNDEE EASILY IN 10 ROUNDS

Madison Square Garden, New York, January 20.—Ace Hudkins, of Nebraska, passed the first obstacle on his way to another bout for the welterweight championship Friday night, but the erstwhile wildcat's claws proved to have been considerably dulled, and old Lew Tendler, of Philadelphia, put up a by no means creditable performance in ten rounds before 12,000 spectators in Madison Square Garden.

The Nebraskaer, who is headed for a championship fight with the present incumbent, Joe Dundee, won every round but two, in which Tendler held him even. The veteran was too slow for the youngster, and all Lew's ring lore went to waste in the face of a shower of punches which Hudkins fired in from every angle.

Tendler, who has been fighting professionally since 1913, showed that his ring career has outlived his usefulness as a topnotcher, yet a gallant fighting heart called him on, and he actually held his young and sturdy opponent on even terms during the final session.

Hudkins dropped Tendler for the count of eight in the seventh round and Lew got up shaking his head as though dazed. The knockdown came after two minutes of fighting in this heat and nearly ended matters for the Philadelphiaan. Hudkins, however, was too wild to finish his man, and his blows lacked the steam of former bouts.

TOM O'ROURKE MATCHED FOR RINGSIDE BOUT

Offering them as an impetus to exert their last ounce of energy in a match with Tommy Billiards, the heavy-hitting Cincinnati, the Ringside arena management is more confident than ever that Tuesday night's ten-round engagement between Tommy O'Rourke, of Atlanta, and Stiles Attaway, of Gainesville, will be one of the most thrilling matches ever staged here.

The Ringside matchmaker has all but signed Billiards for the winner at an early date. Billiards will be remembered as the rugged young citizen who fought Attaway to a standstill a few weeks ago in the auditorium, giving fully as good as he received. Many a spectator present voiced the opinion that the Oklahoma was entitled to the decision but the bout was ruled a draw.

Attaway, according to his manager, Eddie Hannon, would like a chance to erase that blot from his brilliant record. O'Rourke has never met Billiards, but if he beats off the Gainesville slugger he will be able to demand a fancy price for a battle with Billiards.

Meanwhile arrangements are being completed for the Tuesday night attraction. Several other events will be listed and a capacity house is almost assured. Tickets will be placed on sale at Hack Ethel's billiard parlor and the management urges that the 900 patrons who can be accommodated purchase their tickets in advance.

Auburn Tigers Easily Trim Tennesseeans

Alabama Cagers Traction Foes, 63 to 14—Akins Stars for Tigers.

Auburn, Ala., January 20.—(Special.)—Working behind an air-tight defense, the Tigers of Auburn defeated the Tennessee basketball team, 63 to 14, here tonight, giving them their ninth straight court victory.

Soon after the opening whistle was sounded the Tigers located the basket and from then on the game was never in doubt. When the half-way mark was reached Auburn was enjoying a 20-to-10 lead over the Tennessee cagers.

The closing period saw the Tigers open a strong drive on the basket and goals were shot almost at will by the local cagers. Akins, stellar forward of the Tiger five, took high scoring honors with a total of 19 points before playing a jam-up game on the floor. It seemed almost impossible for the star Tiger forward to miss the hoop and aided by his mates he had little trouble in registering points.

Captain James also came in for his share of the laurels. The stellar leader of the Tiger quint played a great game on the floor and registered four points. His brother, E. James, turned in nine points and also came through with a jam-up game of basketball. His guarding was excellent as was his brothers.

The Tennesseeans were held to only three field goals during the game by the close guarding of the Auburn boys, who were on their toes every minute. However, the visiting quint proved to be no high when it came to shooting foul shots, the Tennesseeans registered eight free shots in as many chances.

Butcher and McKee led the Tennessee five. These two boys played a good game on the floor and are due much credit for their night's work. Butcher was high scorer with five points. Dykes turned in four for his night's work.

By scoring 19 points tonight, Akins ran his total for nine games to 143 while the team's total for as many games reached 274 to 190 for its opponents.

MERCER BEARS BEAT CITADEL FIVE, 38 TO 29

Macon, Ga., January 20.—(P.)—Mercer's scoring combination of Lynn-Mercer Mallard and Captain Phoney Smith could not be checked by the Citadel Cadets, 1927 S. I. A. A. champions, here tonight, and the Bears tucked away the first of a two-game series with the Charleston quintet, 38 to 29.

Mallard literally ran wild, sinking shots for 18 points, while Captain Smith was close behind with 12. All of Mercer's points came from field goals, the Bears having but one foul shot and missing that.

The six-point margin of victory was the same as that by which Carolina defeated the Georgians here last season.

The contest started slowly, but soon after the game opened Satterfield replaced Vansant at forward and with the coming of the little star, business picked up greatly for the Tarheels, who had worked to 16-12 lead at half time. Satterfield's ten points gave him top scoring honors while Captain Florence, of Georgia, was runner-up with nine points.

Thirty personal fouls were called during the game, 17 of which were charged to the visitors. Two of the Bulldogs went out of the contest on fouls.

Club Representatives Meet With Junior Chamber This Morning To Decide.

BY WHITNER CARY.

The question of whether or not Atlanta and the East Lake course will be the scene of the 1928 southern open golf championship will be answered Saturday morning when representatives of the Atlanta Athletic club and the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce meet.

In 1927 the southern open, carrying a purse of $12,000, the largest money prize offered in an open event, was held over the East Lake course. The event was sponsored by the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce and proved a great success. Practically every leading professional in the country was present and the play was watched by tremendous galleries.

Some weeks ago a question arose as to whether or not the tournament would be held here. Although nothing was definitely decided at that time, requests were sent to the Southern Golf association asking that Atlanta be awarded the southern open for 1928.

While no official answer has been received, owing to the length of time it takes for such a request to be acted upon, there is little doubt but the association will act favorably.

At one time it was hoped to have a trio of tournaments in this section with Birmingham, Chattanooga and Atlanta being the three battle grounds. Birmingham has already announced the dates of its meeting as March 16, 16 and 17.

Whether or not the date originally proposed for the southern will be asked for if it is decided at the meeting Saturday to hold the event in this city is not known. But it stands to reason that the local officials would hardly ask for a date that would conflict with any of the tournaments to be held.

It is that the case the Atlanta tournament would either be held immediately preceding the Birmingham tournament or after the Pinehurst tournament which latter event takes place after the week of March 18.

Bulldogs Bow To Tarheels In Fast Game

Satterfield Leads N. C. Five to 35-29 Victory Over Georgians.

Chapel Hill, N. C., January 20.—(P.)—Satterfield, diminutive forward, furnished the spark which set in motion North Carolina's basketball machine and the Tarheels defeated the University of Georgia tonight 35 to 29, before a crowd of 2,500 fans.

The six-point margin of victory was the same as that by which Carolina defeated the Georgians here last season.

The contest started slowly, but soon after the game opened Satterfield replaced Vansant at forward and with the coming of the little star, business picked up greatly for the Tarheels, who had worked to 16-12 lead at half time. Satterfield's ten points gave him top scoring honors while Captain Florence, of Georgia, was runner-up with nine points.

Thirty personal fouls were called during the game, 17 of which were charged to the visitors. Two of the Bulldogs went out of the contest on fouls.

"I love the Tobacco business. There is a fascination about it that grips you. The fine texture and beauty of a Leaf of Tobacco appeals to the Tobacco buyer as a great Painting does to the artist. # You Can Win $2,000.00

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION'S "COW" FIGURE GAME

$2,000.00 First Prize — $1,000.00 Second Prize — $500.00 Third Prize

Twenty-five Cash Prizes in All---Amounting to $4,515.00

$500.00 Extra First Prize for Promptness

This is your opportunity to use your spare time to advantage. These big cash prizes are going to be given away to the lucky winners, and no one has a better chance than you if you will only make the proper effort. The object of the game is to see how much you can make the "COW" weigh by filling inside of the border representing the cow with figures "9." Now isn't that simple?

How many times can you write by hand, using a lead pencil, the figure "9" inside the border forming the cow outline? The sum total of the number of the "9's" that you put in the cow picture will represent your answer or what you give as the weight of the cow. For example twenty "9's" will be 180 pounds; one hundred "9's" would be 900 pounds, etc. Can you write in one hundred "9's," two hundred, or how many? The person having the greatest number of "9's," that is, the largest sum total, will win first prize, second largest second prize, etc.

NOTE: While there are three cow pictures given in this announcement, so a contestant may have plenty of material to work on, only one cow picture is to be submitted with a solution.

How Much Can You Make the "Cow" Weigh?

THAT'S THE PROBLEM!

TRY YOUR HAND AT IT BY WRITING THE FIGURE "9" AS MANY TIMES AS YOU CAN INSIDE THE BORDERLINE OF THE "COW."

When you have them all written in, add them. That will give you your answer to "How Much Can You Make the Cow Weigh." Every "9" stands for 9 pounds, and the total of "9's" you have written in the cow space is your weight record.

Begin now on the game by clipping out the "cow" picture and start with lead pencil to filling in with the figure "9." You will find it absorbing fun, and every "9" that you write in the "cow" figure takes you further on your way to the big cash prizes that are to be given.

Be sure that the "9's" do not touch each other, nor touch the border of the cow. You may have additional copies of the "cow" picture by writing to the Cow Contest Dept., enclosing a stamped return envelope. The extra copies, however, will be on the same grade of paper as this is printed on.

You have a chance to earn $35.00, $250.00, $1,000.00 or $2,000.00, as explained and shown in the Prize List, and $500.00 extra for promptness.

How to Win $2,000.00

It is not necessary to send a subscription, but by qualifying your entry into "How much can you make the cow weigh" game with one or two subscriptions, you can increase the amount of the prize money that you will receive if you are a winner. For instance, the first prize is $35.00, but if winners of first prize has qualified with one six months' subscription, the prize will be $250.00 instead of $35.00. If qualified with one year's subscription the prize will be $1,000.00 instead of $35.00; or if qualified with two annual subscriptions the prize would be $2,000.00 instead of $35.00, and so on with proportional increases throughout the entire prize list. In all there are 25 prizes, as shown in this announcement.

$35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize (the person having the largest sum total in the cow picture) if no subscription is sent to the daily and Sunday Constitution.

$250.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one six months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution with $5.00 remittance is sent, new or renewal. (See second column in prize list.)

$1,000.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one annual subscription, new or renewal, to the daily and Sunday Constitution is sent with $9.50 remittance; second prize $500.00; third prize $250.00, etc. (See third column in prize list.)

$2,000.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize, provided two yearly subscriptions to the daily and Sunday Constitution are sent, one of which must be new, at $9.50 each, total remittance $19.00; second prize $1,000.00; third prize $500.00, etc. (See last column in prize list.)

Be sure to write your qualifying subscription on a separate sheet of paper from the "cow" picture, giving your name and address as well as the name and address of each subscriber. Remittance should be sent by money order, personal check or bank check. Currency should always be registered.

Observe These General Rules of the Contest:

1. All bona fide residents of Georgia and adjoining states may take part in this contest, except employees of The Atlanta Constitution and members of their families.
2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire, provided payment of one of the three amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one award. Once registered, a solution cannot be changed.
3. The first prize will be awarded to the person having the greatest sum total, which is to be determined by the sum of the figures "9" written by the space designated inside of the border forming the picture representing the cow; to the second greatest total second prize, third greatest total third prize, etc.
4. Any lead pencil may be used. All writing or drawing pens of artists or engineers or their like are barred, as ink cannot be used on this grade of paper without blurring. The figures "9" need not be perfect in shape, but must be complete. Write as small as you like with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make—just so each "9" is fully shaped. Figures cannot touch each other, nor are they permitted to touch any part of the borderline forming the shape of the cow.
5. Copperplate type, shorthand, reproductions or reductions are barred, also duplicates of the original. Every "9" must actually be made by hand with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make, and must be discernible to the naked eye, meaning clear and distinct to a person of average good eyesight or equivalent. The natural eye by those who do not wear glasses, and ordinary reading glasses by those who wear glasses only guide allowed, in filling in the figure "9." A "9" with either straight or curved tail is permissible.
6. Every contestant must give the correct total of the weight of the cow in the answer submitted by him. Incorrect statement disqualifies the solution. This weight of course is the sum total of the "9's" he has written in the figure representing the cow. This is important! Your name and complete address must be plainly written on margin of sheet on which your answer is given, or blank printed for that purpose, or a blank of your own selection attached hereto.

7. In case of ties, while there is hardly a chance in 10,000 of a tie, many awards will be reserved as there are people tied. Before any awards are awarded for less correct solutions, another puzzle will be submitted to those tied on the same order of this one, except a smaller "cow" picture, after which should still result each contestant will receive the full amount of the prize tied for.
8. Only one prize will be awarded to a person, household, or group of persons. Any person or household or group of persons submitting duplicates are barred.
9. The decision of The Atlanta Constitution must be accepted as final and conclusive in all matters, and participants by sending in their answers agree to accept the decision of the contest manager of The Atlanta Constitution as conclusive and final.
10. The Atlanta Constitution reserves the right to reject at any time any contestant whom it believes has violated the rules. The solution of the winner of first prize will be reproduced in The Constitution, together with the published result which will be published as soon as possible after the closing date of the contest.
11. All answers will receive the same consideration, regardless as to whether or not a subscription for the daily and Sunday Constitution is sent in.
12. The contest is open to new and old subscribers alike. The regular subscription rate of $5.00 for six months' subscription or $9.50 for 12 months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution will prevail. Daily only subscriptions or Tri-Weekly subscriptions not acceptable in this contest. Full amount of subscription must be remitted in every instance. When sent through an agent, postmaster, or otherwise no remittance can be deducted. In column 2 of prize list, six months' subscription there referred to can be either new or renewal; column

- 3, 12 months' subscription $9.50, can be either new or renewal. Column 4, requiring two annual subscriptions, one can be a renewal, but one must be new. A new subscription means one who is not now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, directly or indirectly through any source, and has not within the past 60 days.
13. Subscriptions secured by the means of this contest in Atlanta and suburbs will be delivered by carrier service. In towns outside of Atlanta, where The Constitution has carrier delivery service, the paper may be delivered by carrier, upon request of the subscriber or contestant; otherwise the paper will be sent by mail.
14. A person who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, and paying the carrier or agent by the week or month, or otherwise, may send or bring directly to The Constitution a six or twelve months' payment to qualify a solution. Whatever is due such carrier, dealer or agent at that time must be paid to him as the remittance sent us will date from the date it is received. The carrier or agent will be notified by The Constitution of such advance payments. If all arrearages are not paid the solution may not be considered valid. Renewals on mail subscriptions will be extended for the length of time paid for from present paid date of expiration. All qualifying subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance.
15. Contest closes Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. All solutions delivered in person must be at The Constitution office by 9:00 p. m. of that date, but may be mailed any time before midnight. Solutions mailed at any post office in Georgia and adjoining states bearing postmark of no later date than midnight February 8th, 1928, will be accepted if rules governing same are complied with. The contest extends from Wednesday, January 4th, 1928, to and including Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. Five days will be given thereafter for those who have not fully qualified for the larger prizes to do so, after which no further qualification remittances will be accepted.

The above rules are simple, easy to understand, and is all the information that can be given on the contest except that which appears in the announcement of which this is a part.

(Copyrighted, 1928, by The Atlanta Constitution.)

GET OUT YOUR LEAD PENCIL NOW!

Qualification subscriptions with remittance can be sent in now, or at any time, and the contestant can have until the close of the contest, Feb. 8, to send in his or her solution.

The exercises were held in the chapel of the academy and Dr. Carter Helm Jones, the brilliant orator, recited the greatness of the peerless chieftain, Robert E. Lee. To Dr. Jones' admiration of General Lee's character and achievements as a warrior figure was added the unusual intimate knowledge of General Lee as a man and friend. Dr. J. William Jones, father of Dr. Carter Helm Jones, enjoyed the distinction of being a close personal friend and chaplain in General Lee's own army of northern Virginia.

After the awarding of the medal by Mrs. R. L. Proctor, past president of Robert E. Lee chapter, the cadets gave a review in honor of the occasion. The absence of the chapter president, Miss Mary Gray, was excused by the sudden death of her uncle, P. C. Ratliff, in Birmingham, Alabama.

TARIFF HIKE ASKED TO HELP FARMERS

Washington, January 20.—(AP)—In the face of opposition on the part of the republican party leaders to revision of the tariff at this time Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, today proposed an increase in the import rates on more than a dozen farm commodities and the transfer of a number of others from the free to the protected list.

He introduced a bill to that end and it was referred to the ways and means committee, which must pass on tariff legislation, but predictions, based on the line-up of the house recently on the tariff question, for the most part were that it would not get far. Dickinson is a member of the farm bloc in the house and his proposal is designed to benefit the farmers.

Products Named in Bill.
Among the products the Dickinson bill would afford greater tariff protection are coconut oil, cattle hides, swine, extracts of meat, fresh, prepared or preserved; corn or maize, including cracked corn; oil bearing seeds, nuts and oils, expressed or extracted.

While the Iowa representative was making his move for farm relief through tariff readjustments, the problem was the subject of discussion before two house committees. Appearing before the irrigation committee, L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, declared that his organization was opposed to further development at present of irrigation and reclamation projects on the ground that it would be "unwise and unfair to accept of the hold in advance action of the Columbia river basin."

As Taber was expressing his views the house agriculture committee continued its hearings on farm relief preliminary to reaching a decision whether the revised McNary-Haugen bill should be revised still further by eliminating its controversial equalization fee provisions.

Four republicans on the agriculture committee—Williams and Adkins, of Illinois; Ketcham, of Michigan, and Thompson, of Ohio—have dropped out of the equalization fee camp, contending it would be futile, in the face of administration hostility to the principle, to attempt to have it enacted into law.

FLOOD CONTROL BODY TO STUDY JADWIN PLAN

SINKING PROBE STEPS SENATE NOW

Washington, January 20.—(AP)—After chafing intermittently for more than four hours today as to whether a presidential commission or congress shall investigate the S-4 disaster, the senate adjourned without a vote on the house resolution which automatically went back to the calendar.

Senator Swanson, of Virginia, ranking democrat on the naval committee, demanded a vote, but Chairman Hale, of that committee, objected on the ground that several other senators wanted to speak on the resolution. Then the Virginia senator noticed he would object to the resolution being called up again out of order.

Will Fight Resolution.
"I will not be trifled with this way," he declared. "I got out of a sick bed to vote here today and I will not consent to get this resolution up again out of its regular order."

Under the leadership of Swanson the democrats demanded a separate investigation by congress of the disaster with the presidential commission inquiring only into devices to prevent such disasters in the future and for saving officers and men.

Administration proponents of the resolution, which was introduced at the suggestion of President Coolidge, moved to amend it to provide for the appointment of a federal judge on the proposed commission of five members.

It was revealed also by Chairman Hale that Secretary William Brewster had asked three men if they would be available to fill the three places to be given to civilians.

PAULING IS BLAME FOR FATAL CRASH.

Boston, January 20.—(United News.)—Seventeen days of exhaustive inquiry into the sinking of the submarine S-4 off Provincetown, and of unsuccessful efforts to rescue the submersible's crew of 40, ended at Charleston navy yard late today.

After counsel for the personnel of the ill-fated craft and for Lieutenant Commander John S. Baylis, of the Paulding, defendant in the proceedings, had delivered final arguments, the naval court of inquiry was permanently adjourned. Rear Admiral Richard H. Jackson, president of the court, said recommendations of the court would be made public at Washington, D. C., within a few weeks.

The court will make no decision. Jackson said he was merely a fact-finding inquiry.

In his summation, Lieutenant Commander Thomas J. Doyle, counsel for the personnel, said the officers of the submarine had acted "on the side of safety" in all their maneuvers prior to the collision, and laid blame for the collision upon the personnel of the Paulding.

SALARIES ARE PAID ATLANTA TEACHERS

Teachers and other employees have waited for their salary checks since January 1 and delivery was begun Friday afternoon.

George Powell, president of the board of education, announced that every possible effort will be expended to see that all salaries are paid on time this year.

Delivery of checks ends long drawn out negotiations to raise adequate money to pay the teachers' salaries on the scale as adopted several months ago. Failure to pay them January 1, 1928, amounted to only $22,000, and the school board treasury remained in the school board treasury and the salaries amounted to $101,000 for the last half of December.

When the couple landed at Valbuena airtel, Mexico City, their reception committee was a detachment of police. They were marched off to jail. They will be returned to Tampico by train, where Angela will be returned to her parents.

THE GUMPS—A LITTLE NEST EGG

The Woman in the Case
BY LOUIS TRACY

SYNOPSIS.

John Arden, handsome young Londoner, meets through an accident lovely Emma, the girl and her companion, Mrs. Sinclair, lately arrived in London from the Argentine. The last two persons to see Lord Farndale alive. The old earl's sudden and mysterious death is announced in the morning papers and Arden grows suspicious of Mrs. Sinclair when he learns that she is trying to keep her visit to the old earl the identity of the two women who visited Lord Farndale just before his death. Mrs. Farndale, fearing arrest or detection as a material witness, persuades Emma to accompany her to Paris. John Arden, who later in Emma was not aroused because he feels that she is under the influence of an unscrupulous creature, saves her from arrest by kidnapping her at the railroad station from behind Mrs. Sinclair's back. He takes her to the quarters of Andy Burke, one of his best friends, and Burke turns over his rooms and his housekeeper to her.

The friends put their heads together in Emma's behalf, but in the midst of their plotting Furieux, of Scotland Yard, John Burke, Emma tells her story to the men and at the completion of it the detective agrees to help her.

Emma, who is the granddaughter of Lord Farndale, had never seen the old man until just before his death. Her father, only child of the earl, had quarreled with him in his youth, had gone out to the Argentine, carried, lived and died there. Her mother had died when she was very young. Mrs. Sinclair, a friend of the family, had been very kind to her after her father's death and had invited the lonely girl to live with her. There Emma met Juan de Braganza, a young Argentine, who asked her to marry him. She refused him. Juan invited Emma for a ride one day and took her out into the country and they stopped at an inn for coffee. Emma grew ill after drinking it, but maintained she never lost consciousness. She was asked to sign the inn's register, but refused and demanded to be taken back to town.

Furieux tells her that Juan de Braganza claims that she is his wife.

Emma decides to go back to Mrs. Sinclair and Furieux agrees to let her go. Mrs. Sinclair and Braganza, who has arrived in London, are placed under surveillance and complete protection is given Emma by the police.

John Arden follows Braganza to Paris at Furieux's suggestion and there the trail leads him to Lady Innes, Emma's great aunt and sister of Lord Farndale, who had lived abroad for fifty years. Braganza tries to enlist her aid in having Emma acknowledge him as her husband, but disliking his appearance she gives him very little encouragement.

Arden wins the old lady completely when he tells her that he intends to run down Braganza's false claim and to marry Emma himself. He induces Lady Innes to come back to England and place Emma under her care. Aunt and niece are attracted to each other at night.

When Lord Farndale's will is read it disclosed that Emma is his heiress.

INSTALLMENT LIV.
CONFESSION.

Mrs. Sinclair was quelled for the time. She tried to class Winter with bourgeoisie, but in her heart she was afraid. The butler, meanwhile, had raised mild, interrogative eyebrows at Sheldon. Evidently he meant to ask if he might go. The detective nodded affably.

"Wait till the coroner dismisses us," he said. "He will order all witnesses present to attend next week."

And that is what was done. When Buchanan left the court he was met at the exit by Furieux, who explained that he had a car waiting, and would drive him to Eaton square. The weather was warm, but the old man shivered perceptibly. Furieux knew that he thought he was being arrested.

Both sat in utter silence during the drive. That was a calculated piece of psychology on the detective's part. So was his instant heading for the late earl's suite, the key of which he produced. The police guard had been removed. The room was in order, not a scrap of paper remained on the floor. The blinds were raised and the windows open. Indeed, the place looked bright and habitable once more.

Buchanan sat down. His face was paler than ever, and his thin body appeared to be a trifle more bent, but he was now quite composed. "Are you thinking of returning to Higher Vinton?" began Furieux, not unkindly, and even looking at the other.

"Yes, sir," said the butler. "There is nothing to keep me in town, and I shall be needed at the hall for a few days longer, at any rate."

"I'm sorry, but I advise you to remain here," and Furieux's voice was grave enough, though it held no hint of compulsion. "I wonder if you realize that it was largely on your account that the inquest has been postponed for another week? The police could have carried the affair much further, but it was thought best to give you a chance to speak, or write, should you prefer it, without any drastic action on our part."

"What am I to tell—or write?" came the gentle question.

"That is not for me to say. As a general principle, I think a man stammered as you are ought to tell, or write, the whole truth. Perhaps it may help you to arrive at a decision if I assure you that Mr. Winter and I have read every word of Lord Farndale's diary. It is a most remarkable record. It might surprise even you, though you cannot be allowed to see it. Have you ever seen it?"

"No, sir. There was no need. I knew, he kept it, and no one knew better what words his evil mind would dictate. Lord Farndale was a bad man. I always thought, but during the last few days I have come to believe that he was a maniac as well."

"I'm inclined to agree with you there. Now, Buchanan, I don't want to subject you to any undue strain. In fact, I have no more to say—no more advice to offer. You must remain in London. That is a definite command. For the rest, I would ask you to search your conscience, and discover if it does not warn you that further concealment is useless. I really do hope you will send us a full statement, covering all the successful years. Good-bye! We, in the Yard, feel very sorry for your loss. He was writing, too, all the afternoon. He rang for some tea at 4 o'clock, and at 5 o'clock, the footman, to Scotland Yard with a big envelope a few minutes before six. It was sealed, marked "Urgent" and "Private," and addressed:

"Chief Superintendent Winter, C. I. D."

Furieux was scoffing at the pseudo-science of criminology, since he held firmly to the belief that the most dangerous criminals were highly intelligent, inclined to be fastidious about the color and style of their garments, and might be either ascetics of well fed. He certainly did not lack instances. He was given one when Sheldon rang for him up at his flat some twenty minutes after Charles, the footman, brought the butler's long letter to Scotland Yard.

"The Farndale mystery is nearly solved," said the younger man with a ring of subdued excitement in his voice; "it is not good form in police circles to show emotion, even in the face of tragedy. The butler has confessed that he killed his master, and is now lying dead in the Eaton square residence."

"So soon?" muttered Furieux. "What's that?"

"Never mind. Why do you say 'never solved'? Is there more of it?"

"Sorry, old man, I'm rather case-hardened. I suppose, in these things, but I do not remember ever before, quite so rattled as when I opened a letter marked 'Urgent,' addressed to the chief, which was brought here by Lord at six o'clock. Of course, I knew he was miles away, looking into that east end drug importing business, and this is supposed to be your free evening."

Furieux hissed loudly. "Yes, I know," continued Sheldon. "but I can't help myself. This affair is too big. I think the home secretary should be consulted. Buchanan has written page after page. I have only skinned through it—honestly, I don't understand the greater part, as I know practically nothing about demography."

"O, is that it?"

"So it seems. The first paragraph and the last were enough to drive me to the telephone pretty quickly. I can assure you. Let me read them to you."

"Of course you won't! Are you wood gathering?"

"I'm afraid so. Anyway, the poor chap is dead."

"So you've said already, once too often! It is my fault. I ought to have stopped you after the first sentence, not to mention the second. I'll be with you before seven. Who's in charge at Eaton square?"

"Furieux."

"He'll do, and he knows the ground. I hope no one has phone or wired to the north?"

"I shut down on that the instant Thompson, the valet, told me what had happened."

"Good for you! My apologies for being so tense just now. My nervous system differs from yours, but we each own one."

Furieux's taxi from Baker street was about to turn into the traffic of Oxford street when the fare, who wore this blunder, thrust his head out. "Make for St. James street and the Horseguards' Parade, you blithering idiot!" he cried shrilly. At the same time the constable on night-duty delayed an oncoming torrent and permitted the cab to cross.

Slightly tightening of money rates was reflected in a further falling off in the volume of trading in bonds today. Prices generally kept an even course, the only outstanding changes being recorded in issues which for one reason or another were looked upon as bargains.

The only mortgages for which there was any particularly strong demand were the 5 and 5-1/2 per cent issues of the California Petroleum Company, which responded briskly to announcement yesterday of the merger with Texas Corporation. The 5's were the favorites, rising about 2 points to 100-3/4, the highest price in more than a year.

Convertible issues displayed firm tendencies in sympathy with allied stocks, but buying failed to gather momentum. Brooklyn Union

Gas 5-1/2's, Keystone Telephone

General Asphalt 6's and Andes Copper 7's were the leaders.

High-grade investment securities in the railway, utility and industrial groups had an apathetic appearance and price changes were infinitesimal.

There were a few higher prices in the early trading but failed to consolidate their gains. There was a little buying of Erie 5's, but other leaders of that character seemed unable to improve yesterday's final quotations.

Treasury obligations were in supply, more than $200,000 of them changing hands. This doubtless was due to reduction of federal reserve bank holdings. Recession, however,

The foreign group developed little interest. French issues, firm yesterday, following reduction of the discount rate of the Bank of France, developed an irregular trend.

SENATE ANXIOUS AT CHAIRS OF SENATE SENATE

Havana, January 20.—(AP)—The United States delegation to the Pan-American congress will interpose no difficulties to an open and frank discussion of American policies in the Caribbean and in Latin America generally.

It was said authoritatively today that should other nations of the hemisphere urge such a review, the United States mission is quite ready to say to the assembled representatives of 29 Latin American republics that Washington feels there is nothing to hide, nothing to regret in this government's stand in that connection.

It was pointed out, however, by the same authority that despite America's intention to leave nothing undone to facilitate good understanding and agreement at this conference, the Washington government has not changed its position on any fundamental points of national policy.

Committees Completed.

This morning in the last committee organization, Ambassador J. M. Caffery, ministered to the needs of the committee on resolutions with subsequent action.

Alfonso's nomination and election was practically the only important bit of business transacted in today's session of the conference, which is adjourning shortly after noon to resume its sessions Monday.

The election came only after Dr. J. Varela, Uruguayan minister at Washington, had refused to accept the chairmanship because he said his delegation had agreed not to accept any of the presidencies of the conference.

The decision of the American delegation not to oppose open discussion of American policy in this hemisphere is explained as the direct outcome of the sincere and determined desire of the Washington government that the conference indeed be an instrument of general understanding in the new world.

U. S. Delegation Active.

Although in reality the American delegation is not sparing itself in cooperation with other missions in all of the varied activities which the Pan-American congress covers very little of this is visible to the casual observer.

James Brown Scott, president of the American Institute of International Law, who has been the only American to be induced to take a special office. Scott yesterday was elected vice chairman of the committee on private international law.

Even so he accepted the nomination only after he had declared that he would be "purely ornamental."

Americans on the other hand have made themselves prominent in proposing others for officers. Their nominees, however, have been in all cases persons of such standing with such widely known beliefs coming from such prominent countries that any suspicion that the United States might be attempting to select committee chairmen favorable to her interest has been soon dispelled.
